SKY-SCRAPER FOR PEACHTREE IN NEAR FUTURE

Mrs. Ethel Toy Lamar Plans Office Building Corner Peachtree and Decatur.

GOLDSMITH LOT BRINGS $85 PER SQUARE FOOT

As Soon as Mrs. Lamar Can Acquire Schaul & May and Tom Pitts Locations, a Fine Office Building Will Be Erected.

Mrs. Ethel Toy Lamar is planning a sky-scraper to be erected at the corner of Peachtree and Decatur streets. This fact became known yesterday when it was learned that on Saturday through the real estate firms of Forrest & George Adair, and B. M. Grant & Co., she bought of J. W. Goldsmith the store now occupied by Govan, with a frontage of 21 feet on Peachtree and running back a depth of 36 feet to the "Big Bonanza" property, which she already owns, and which has a frontage of 50 feet on Decatur street and runs back a distance of 100 feet.

For this little space, not much larger than the average size dining room the top notch price of $65,000 was paid.

$85 a Square Foot.

Per square foot, like all land in New York city is sold, this is the highest price yet paid for central property in Atlanta, being a little over $85 per square foot.

The highest price per front foot paid in Atlanta was $85,000 for the Inman property at the corner of Peachtree and Walton with a frontage of 21 feet on Peachtree and running back 100 feet. But, estimating it per square foot, it is a little less than half as valuable, being sold at a little over $40 a square foot.

With this purchase Mrs. Lamar, the wife of Congressman W. B. Lamar, of Florida, owns all of the corner between the Kimball House entrance on Peachtree street, and the frontage on Decatur street, except the places occupied by Thomas H. Pitts and Schaul & May.

Both of these storees are held by leases, and as soon as they are acquired the proposed building will be erected.

That the corner under consideration is one of the most popular in the city is beyond dispute. It is estimated that more people pass this point during the day than any other in Atlanta.

For a Large Sky-Scraper.

One who is associated with Mrs. Lamar in looking after her Atlanta property, to whom her desire to erect an office building on this corner is known said:

"Since coming into possession of her property in Atlanta, it has been known that Mrs. Lamar has had her eye on the Goldsmith property with the desire to acquire it, and add it to her Decatur street property in order that she may erect a lange building on what is now considered the most prominent and probably the most valuable corner in the city of Atlanta.

"It is said that more people pass the Schaul & May corner during the twenty-four hours of the day than any other one point in Atlanta.

"Mrs. Lamar is a woman of unusual business ability and has managed her estate so as to very greatly enhance its value and increase its rental income.

"There are now leases on the Peachtree and Decatur street property, and it is said that by the time these leases expire she will have perfected her plans for a new building.

"The size and design of the building will, of course, depend upon the time when she can secure the rest of the corner. Judging from the prices paid for this property, it would seem that hardly less than a twenty-story building on this popular corner would prove a good investment."

LYNCHING THREATENED NEAR INDIANOLA, MISS.

Seven Negro Men and Women Arrested for Murder of Planter.

Indianola, Miss., January 25.—Following the killing near Inverness, Miss., last night, of B. A. Bradley, a prominent planter, and the arrest today of seven negroes, five men and two women, charged with having a part in the crime, the most intense excitement prevails in that vicinity, and the lynching of several, if not all the negroes under arrest before tomorrow is not improbable. Bradley was shot from ambush after visiting the cabin of one of the tenants on his plantation, who, it was stated to Bradley, several persons had expressed an intention of whipping.

Mrs. Faulkner Assaulted.

Guthrie, Okla., January 25.—Mrs. J. H. Faulkner, wife of State Representative Faulkner, at the home at Hobart, was assaulted today by J. F. Bowden, a white man in the employ of Faulkner. The sheriff telegraphs that Bowden escaped and that a posse has gone in pursuit. The community is greatly excited and a lynching is threatened.

HARRIMAN HERE ON SHORT VISIT

Reception Committee to Meet Him This Morning.

Auto Ride and Reception at the Piedmont Hotel Will Be Tendered Railroad Magnate This Morning—He Leaves Atlanta at 1:30 O'Clock.

Edward H. Harriman is in Atlanta. The wonder of the financial and railroad world arrived at the terminal station last night from Savannah and will leave for Augusta this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Between these hours he will be the guest of the Atlanta chamber of commerce.

For his entertainment an automobile ride and reception at the Piedmont hotel have been planed. It had been proposed to give him a luncheon at the Capital City Club, but the brief stay which he will make in Atlanta prevents this part of the program.

Arrived on a Special.

Mr. Harriman arrived on his special train over the Central of Georgia, which railroad property he has recently acquired, accompanied by Major J. F. Hanson, the president of the road, with whom Mr. Harriman has been inspecting the system since they both left Augusta last Saturday.

Monday was spent in looking over the terminals and property in Savannah, and Monday afternoon they left on "a through schedule for Atlanta.

Mr. Harriman preferred the daylight ride in order to look after the roadbed and general conditions of the road in transit.

Arrived in Atlanta Major Hanson left the train, and, entering his waiting automobile, drove to his apartments.

Mr. Harriman, who has been indisposed, excused himself to the reporters through his secretary, who stated that he had retired for the night. His car was parked for the night and soon all the lights in the car were out.

Those in the Harriman party, besides Mr. Harriman and President Hanson, were:

R. W. Goelet, of New York; A. R. Lawton, of Savannah, vice president of the Central; W. A. Wimbish, vice president of the Central; R. J. Harland, division superintendent of the Central; T. S. Moise, general manager of the Central; W. H. Pleasants, vice president and general manager of the Ocean Steamship Company, and C. C. Williams, secretary of the Central railway.

The train was made up of three coaches, drawn by engine 1620, one of the swiftest and most perfect locomotives on the line, and Central coach 99, followed by Major Hanson's private car, 100, which immediately preceded Mr. Harriman's private car, Aldin, of the Southern Pacific, a magnificent palace on wheels.

Reception Committee.

Monday President Asa G. Candler, of the chamber of commerce, appointed the following committee to meet Mr. Harriman at the terminal station, this morning at 9 o'clock, in automobiles, for the purpose of taking him for a tour of the city:

Asa G. Candler, Robert F. Maddox, S. M. Inman, F. J. Paxon, John E. Murphy, Major J. F. Hanson, John D. Little, J. S. B. Thompson, C. A. Wickersham, P. S. Arkwright, S. F. Parrott, Clark Howell, Jr., J. R. Gray, F. L. Seely, W. S. Elkin, J. H. Nunnally, George Adair, G. E. Watts, C. G. Bradt, H. B. Wey, J. Carroll Payne, W. E. Chapin, R. F. Shedden, H. L. Schlesinger.

In order that there be no delay, President Candler urges all of the committee to be at the terminal station in their cars by 8:45 o'clock.

The itinerary of the tour has not been decided upon, but it will probably include a detour by the state capitol, a spin out Peachtree road and a return trip by the Tech.

The party will return to the Piedmont by 11:30 o'clock, where the reception to Mr. Harriman will be given. Here he will be presented to the leading business and professional men of Atlanta. The reception will continue until about 1 o'clock, when he will be escorted to the union depot, where his special train will be waiting for a flying return to Augusta, from whence he goes to Aiken, where he is spending the winter.

Maconites Met Harriman.

Macon, Ga., January 25.—(Special.)—Thirty to thirty-five citizens of Macon were in a party that met E. H. Harriman on his special train at the union passenger station tonight shortly after 7 o'clock. He had been to Savannah and was on the way back to Atlanta. President Heard, of the chamber of commerce, had secured a number of representative business men in the list he carried with him to meet the distinguished visitor. It is probable that Mr. Harriman will be in Macon on the occasion of the annual banquet of the chamber on February 24.

ONE DEAD, MANY HURT IN EXPLOSION IN MINE

Superintendent Investigating Mine at Boswell, Pa., When Explosion Occurred.

Pittsburg, Pa., January 25.—While Superintendent J. G. Logan and a party of miners were investigating conditions in the mine of the Merchants' Coal Company at Boswell tonight, a gas explosion occurred which has already cost the life of one man and may result in the death of a dozen more. The night shift had not been permitted to enter the mine and thus the lives of many men were spared.

Superintendent Logan, accompanied by Mine Boss George Morris, Pit Boss John Cole and eleven foreigners, were nearly a mile back in the mine when the explosion occurred. The mine caved in and the passageway was completely blocked, with ten men back of the obstruction.

Three foreigners, badly burned, found their way out and carried the superintendent, who was seriously injured and unconscious. He died soon after being taken from the mine.

Rescue parties are working hard in an effort to rescue Morris, Cole and the eight foreigners.

HARRIMAN PLANS FOR THE CENTRAL

He Says Road Needs to Be Entirely Rebuilt.

Owner of the Road Says It Needs Uplifting, and He Proposes to Show the People of the South What a Real Railroad Is.

Savannah, Ga., January 25.—"The Central of Georgia needs almost absolutely to be reconstructed," said Edward H. Harriman, its owner, in an address delivered at a public reception held at the city hall here in his honor today. Though Major J. F. Hanson, president of the Central railroad, was present, Mr. Harriman continued:

"We are not responsible for the former methods of financing this road. The railroad certainly needs uplifting and I want to show the people of the south what a real railroad is."

He stated that there are two kinds of "kinks" in the Central, lateral curves and then grades and dips, and that both kinds were to be smoothed out of the Central. Mr. Harriman inspected his holdings here for the first time today and went in a fast automobile over the Grand Prize race course. He avoided questions dealing with any designs upon the Seaboard Air Line railway and left on a special train in the afternoon for Macon and Atlanta.

No Soliciting for Liquors.

Nashville, Tenn., January 25.—Senator Samuel Sells, of Washington county, and Representative Walter White, of Rhea county, introduced in the senate and house this afternoon companion bills, "to prohibit the soliciting of orders for the purchase of alcoholic liquors, whether the liquors be in this or some other state." Both these gentlemen are republicans.

THE HOLD-UP!

1,650 SURVIVORS OF SEA TRAGEDY

Brought to New York by the Baltic.

Thousands at the Pier Cheered the Baltic as She Came Up the Bay With Passengers of the Ill-Fated Republic and the Florida.

New York, January 25.—Less than 72 hours after the crash between the ocean liners, Republic and Florida, off the Nantucket shoals, which eventually sent one to the bottom and reduced the other to a state of staggering helplessness, the survivors of this thrilling, deep-sea tragedy, have found a haven at last.

Tonight, 1,660 passengers from the two vessels were safe in this port, brought here by the Baltic, while nearing it were the rescued officers and crew of the Republic, safe on board the derelict-destroyer Seneca, to which they were transferred from the revenue cutter Gresham, after staying up to the last moment by their sinking vessel.

The Battered Florida.

At her dock in Brooklyn was the battered Florida, aboard which her crew had remained throughout the trying experiences.

Only the ill-fated Republic was wanting to complete the list. And she, too, was in port—her last port of call, what will doubtless prove her final resting place beneath 38 fathoms of water, 15 miles south of the Nantucket south shoals lightship.

Something went wrong with the Florida's steering wheel when the collision was imminent. One story had it that a quartermaster had the wheel when the commander yelled for it to be jammed to starboard. He put it to port instead, and the liners crashed into each other.

Another version is that the man dropped his wheel in a panic when danger impended. Both versions agree in saying that the commander felled the quartermaster with an iron spike, following what he must have considered the seaman's recreancy. An injured quartermaster from the Florida was brought to port on the Baltic today. He stoutly asserted that he was not at the wheel when the accident occurred.

Cheers From Thousands.

Frenzied cheers from the thousands at the pier when she docked, greeted the arrival of the Baltic, tears of thankfulness were shed, affectionate greetings were exchanged, and only here and there did a note of sadness intrude itself upon the scene.

Following the Baltic up the harbor was the liner Florida, battered almost to the sinking point herself, by the force of the blow she dealt the Republic, and bearing the bodies of her own three dead and the injured members of her crew.

The Republic's passengers told graphic details of the crash, of the excitement on board, of the bravery of the officers, the good behavior of the crew and the efficient work of rescue.

FLAMES DAMAGE CENTRAL BLOCK

Building on Broad Street and Railroad on Fire.

Mower Hobart Company and E. W. Allen Occupy the Building, Fire Starts on the Top Floor at 2.50 O'Clock This Morning.

The damage may reach as high as $85,000. Practically the entire building was destroyed. It was worth about $35,000, while Mower Hobart Co. had a stock worth $40,000, and E. W. Allen Printing Co. was also a considerable loser.

At 2:50 o'clock this morning the building on South Broad street and the railroad, directly opposite Verner's restaurant, caught fire, and for awhile it looked as if the whole block would be destroyed before the firemen could get the flames under control.

The damaged building is occupied by the Mower-Howbart Company on the first and third floors and by E. W. Allen on the second floor.

The fire broke out in the rear end of the building on the railroad side. The firemen were summoned almost instantly by the railroad whistles, and firemen mounted ladders to the top of The Georgian building just back of the site of the fire and poured water through the windows now belching forth flames within a few feet of The Georgian.

Two other streams were played on the fire from the railroad, the firemen mounting on box cars in order to reach the flames. Finally they were called off and placed on the Broad street bridge, where the fight against the blaze was renewed.

The building belongs to Hugh Inman. Eleven streams were playing on the blaze.

The building belongs to Mrs. Hugh Richardson. Eleven streams were playing on the blaze.

RAILROADS MAY NOW HAUL NEAR BEER

Montgomery, Ala., January 25.—(Special.)—Judge Sayre, of the city court, has declared the anti-shipping law unconstitutional and granted the mandamus of a local brewery to force the Louisville and Nashville railroad to haul near beer and other like products. This law prohibits transportation of any alcoholic or malt drink from one point in the state to another.

The allegation that the general prohibition bill prohibits any drink with any alcohol or malt, eliminating near beer, was not passed upon, though raised. The effect is to allow railroads to haul liquors, as it is held that the law against aiding and abetting does not reach the roads in the class of haul.

NEW MAINE DROPS ANCHOR AT HAVANA

Just Eleven Years Ago Old Maine Reached Havana.

New Maine, Accompanied by the Mississippi, Arrived at Precisely the Hour at Which the Old Maine Steamed Into Harbor January 25, 1898.

Havana, January 25.—On this, the eleventh anniversary of the arrival of the old battleship Maine on her ill-fated mission to Cuban waters, the new Maine, with the still more modern Mississippi following in her wake, sailed into Havana harbor to be present at the inauguration of General Jose Miguel Gomez and the new Cuban government on Thursday night.

This is the first visit of the namesake of the wrecked warship, and her coming excites great interest, not only among Americans, but among all classes of the residents, who lined the harbor walls from La Punta battery, opposite Morro, to Machina wharf, off which the two American battleships are moored to anchorage buoys tonight within a few hundred yards of the tangled mass of steel and the old fighting top, the visible remnants of the vessel destroyed February 15, 1898.

The new Maine arrived at 11 a. m., precisely the hour at which the old Maine steamed into the harbor on January 25, 1898. The old Maine saluted the Spanish flag over Morro castle. Today the new Maine, which is the flagship of the third squadron of the Atlantic fleet, commanded by Rear Admiral Arnold, saluted the Cuban pennant flying from the historic old fortress. The salute was returned by the Cabanas battery on a high hill overlooking the harbor.

The Maine and Mississippi joined company at Key West yesterday morning, the former coming up from Venezuelan waters and the latter down from the coast from the Philadelphia navy yard. The time of the arrival of the warship was communicated to the authorities at Havana by wireless and the people poured out to the water front to witness the spectacle.

Lieutenant Commander W. T. Cluverius, of the Mississippi, is a survivor of the old Maine, on which he was serving as a midshipman at the time of the explosion which destroyed her. Lieutenant Commander Sumner E. V. Kittele, navigator of the Mississippi, is a son-in-law of Rear Admiral Sigsbee, retired, who was in command of the Maine.

NO MORE FAIRS AT PIEDMONT

Council Fails to Reconsider Former Action.

No Action Killed Fairs—After Transacting Other Business, Council Adopted a Motion to Adjourn—Was No Opposition to the Motion.

The fate of Piedmont park is settled. And there will be no more fairs held there.

Such was the result of the action of the general council yesterday afternoon; or, rather, the result of no action of the council.

The session had been called especially to settle the Piedmont park matter, and after some other business had been transacted, a motion to adjourn was adopted, and that left the question where it was before. Council and the aldermanic board had adopted the recommendations of the special committee, which was to tear down all but three buildings and to abolish fairs.

There was still some unrest in certain quarters, and Mayor Maddox called council together yesterday afternoon, on a written request of a majority of the members, who wanted to have the question of fairs or no fairs settled finally.

Then came the adjournment without any action being taken, and it was announced that Piedmont park is to be converted into a pleasure resort without any more annual fairs.

If there was any member of council who wanted to have action again taken on the fair proposition he did not let it be known, and those who were against fairs claimed that the opposition, if there was any, knew its case was hopeless.

There was a large delegation of citizens present, representing the Piedmont Improvement Club.

The other business transacted by council before there was an adjournment and the end of fairs at Piedmont park was as follows:

A resolution by Councilman Grant to allow the Southern Railway Company to lay electric wire conduits under Castleberry and West Fair streets, as a part of an interlocking switch system. The resolution was adopted.

By Councilmen Cofield and Boynton, a resolution to appropriate $500 for the city engineer to make a survey and estimate for a system of tunneling, so as to have only one sewer plant in the city. The paper was referred to the bond commission.

HITCHCOCK IN A HARD FIGHT WITH BADLY WOUNDED DEER

Charleston, S. C., January 25.—To kill his first deer, a magnificent buck, within an hour's drive of one of the oldest cities in America, was the novel experience to which Frank H. Hitchcock, who is to be postmaster general in Mr. Taft's cabinet, was treated today. Mr. Hitchcock came here yesterday and conferred with the president-elect at the latter's telegraphic invitation. This morning he accompanied the party that went down the bay to see Mr. Taft off for Panama, and upon returning to the city was taken by Postmaster W. L. Harris and Mr. E. W. Durant, Jr., after lunch for a deer hunt. The party left Charleston at 2 o'clock. Before 5 o'clock the hunting grounds had been reached, a handsome buck had been driven from the swamp by the dogs past Mr. Hitchcock's stand and he had brought it to the ground. The deer was not killed instantly and Mr. Hitchcock, rushing enthusiastically after it into a swamp, had his clothing badly torn in a hard fight with the buck before killing it. As it was his deer, he was, following the etiquette of the chase, well "bloodied" by his companions. Mr. Hitchcock left for Washington at 7 o'clock this evening.

CITY AFFAIRS ARE CONDUCTED IN LAX MANNER

So Councilmen Declare in Session Behind Locked Doors.

EVERYBODY PUT OUT BY THE CITY MARSHAL

Even the Reporters Were All Ousted—No Action Was Taken—More System and Better Business Methods Were Talked About.

Better business methods for Atlanta's government was the matter discussed by the general council in a secret meeting held yesterday afternoon.

It was claimed that the city's affairs were being conducted in rather a slipshod manner. While no blame was attached to any one or any special department, it was stated that the way in which the city's officials were paid off was too unbusiness-like for a great city government.

Behind Closed Doors.

All this was talked about behind closed doors. Just why there should have been so much secrecy about such a matter is not known, and even some of the members of council were set to guessing why the marshal was instructed to "put out everybody, even city officials," and to "close the doors."

This is the first time such a thing was ever done behind locked doors, and Councilman Martin Amorous, chairman of the finance committee, was responsible for it. He requested the members of council to remain, after the open session, for a "conference."

The marshal began to put everybody out (even the newspaper reporters) and then everybody went to guessing. Several persons criticized the council for locking the doors of the chamber. An air of mystery hung heavy over the scene.

No Action Was Taken.

After all the discussion, nothing was done. One member of council stated after the secret session:

"The very fact that we had closed the doors prevented any action being taken. There was absolutely no use for a closed door session. When the talk was over, it was ascertained that no legal action could be taken in executive session, and then, as one member remarked, it wouldn't have done to take any action when the curiosity of the people had been aroused by locking the doors."

It was proposed in the meeting to have all the departments gone over and their business methods investigated. This did not imply in the least that there had been any crookedness, but merely that there should be more systematic and better methods in managing the city's financial affairs.

As no action was taken, the matter may come up at the next regular meeting of council, and something be done when all the people can hear.

MAN WITHOUT A NAME MAY FIND ONE SOON

Secretary Joseph C. Logan, of the Associated Charities, thinks he has succeeded in identifying the old deaf and dumb man who was taken in charge by the charities recently after he had been turned over to police. In Sunday's Constitution was printed a story of the old man, who seemed to be dead to the world and who was apparently unknown to the community.

Mr. Logan had a call from E. T. Clements, of 148 Logan street, who had seen the story about the old man, and stated that he thought he had seen him before at a turpentine camp in Statenville, Echols county. He took a look at the old fellow and says he feels sure he saw him some time ago.

Mr. Clements gave Mr. Logan the name of parties in Echols county, and the latter has written for information. He also wired the ordinary of Clinch county, town of Homerville.

Negro Tries to Cut Officer.

John T. Wellman, a negro, 20 years of age, attempted to cut Patrolman Bailey in the alley back of the Bijou theater last night with a knife, when the officer told him to move on, and as a result Wellman is lodged at the station house under a bond of $100, charged with disorderly conduct. Officer Bailey was attempting to preserve order in the large crowd of negroes who filed out of the colored entrance from the theater. He spoke to Wellman, who was blocking the passageway, and told him to move on. As Officer Bailey's back was turned the negro began to curse him. When the officer turned on Wellman the latter drew a large knife, and made an attempt to cut Officer Bailey's throat. The negro made two slashes with the knife, but only succeeded in grazing Bailey's collar.

A Conundrum.

(From The Cleveland Leader.)

Into a general store of a town in Arkansas there recently came a darky complaining that a ham which he had purchased there was not good.

"The ham is all right, Zeph," insisted the storekeeper.

"No, it ain't, boss," insisted the negro. "Dat ham's shore bad."

"How can that be," continued the storekeeper, "when it was cured only last week?"

The darky scratched his head reflectively, and finally suggested:

"Den mebbe it's had a relapse."

SEVEN JURORS IN COOPER CASE

One Man Added as Result of Monday's Work.

During the Day 120 Talesmen Were Examined, but Only One Man Qualified — State Will Make Effort to Remove Juror Leigh.

Nashville, Tenn., January 25.—The net result of another day's work in the trial of Colonel Duncan B. Cooper, Robin Cooper and John D. Sharpe, for the murder of ex-Senator Carmack was one lone juror added to the six already in the box. The new panel of 500 reported this morning and at 4 p. m. one hundred and twenty had been examined. Of these, only one qualified, J. H. Vaughn.

Judge William M. Hart, of Nashville, who is presiding at the trial of the Coopers and Sharp, charged with killing Edward W. Carmack, is confronted by the greatest array of legal talent that has ever assembled at a trial in Tennessee. The counsel, both for the state and the accused men, constitutes the flower of the Tennessee bar. Twelve lawyers are engaged in the trial.

The hearing of the charges against Juror Leigh will take place as soon as the present panel is exhausted, which will probably be Wednesday. The state has used ten of its eighteen peremptory challenges and the defense fourteen of its seventy-two.

Attorney General McCarn asked whether or not the defense proposed to resist the removal of Juror Leigh. Judge Anderson said the defense had not had time to investigate.

"The defense has had time," retorted McCarn. "It has had Leigh's son working on the changes or for some other purpose for several days. And the state wishes to announce that it objects to Leigh, not only because he was drunk when accepted, but because he has expressed a violent opinion as to the innocence of the accused. We have the proof of that."

"Has Juror Leigh been arrested for perjury?" asked Judge Anderson.

"Not yet," replied McCarn suggestively. Then McCarn offered to read the affidavit against Leigh, but the defense objected. The state then asked the court to set a day for the hearing. The court said it would be better to continue the examination of talesmen and settle the Leigh case later. Counsel asked for time to consult upon the new venire, which was granted.

During the recess Judge Hart sent for the six men already selected as jurors, and said:

"The court wishes to caution you again against discussing this case amongst yourselves. This would be contrary to your oath."

This action was taken at the request of the state, which professed to believe that those men on the jury against whom prejudice charges will be filed might discuss the case and influence the others.

Mrs. Beverly Wilson, of Mobile, Ala., Colonel Cooper's youngest daughter, today joined the little coterie of relatives which surround the defendants.

PRESERVE HOME, SAYS ROOSEVELT

In Speaking of Care of Dependent Children.

Conference on Little Ones Is Opened at the White House. State Aid Urged Where Poverty Exists in Home—Roosevelt on Types of Children.

Washington, January 25.—The importance of the preservation of the home intact was the central theme around which the discussion revolved at the conferences on the care of dependent children, which formally was opened by President Roosevelt at the white house late today. The subject under consideration was "Should the breaking of the home be permitted, for reasons of poverty, or only for reasons of inefficiency, or immorality?"

It was the unanimous opinion of an array of notable charity workers and others who took part in the discussion that the child can best be reared under the influence of the home, and that it should be removed from the family circle only when proper supervision at home has become impossible. It was also the consensus of opinion that where poverty exists in the home, state aid should be given.

The historic East room of the white house was the scene of this notable conference.

Speech of President.

The president spoke in part as follows:

"There can be no more important subject, from the standpoint of the nation, than that with which you are to deal; because, when you take care of the children you are taking care of the nation of tomorrow; and it is incumbent upon every one of us to do all in his or her power to provide for the interests of these children, whom cruel misfortune has handicapped at the very outset of their lives.

"There are, of course, several different types of conditions which you are trying to meet. I believe that all of us have come to the conclusion that, where possible, the thing to be done for the child is to have a home for it; and that where that is not possible we should make the conditions as nearly as possible like those which the child would have in a home. There is ample room for all existing institutions, but the work of extension should so far as possible be a work of extension in home-placing; and where that is not possible, to make the conditions surrounding the child that cannot be put in a home as nearly as possible like those which would obtain were the child in a home.

Children Who Need Care.

"There are half a dozen different types of children for whom we need to care. There is, first of all, the complete orphan, the child who has lost both father and mother. For this child we wish to make permanent provision. My own belief is that the best kind of permanent provision, if feasible, is to place that child in a home. We then have to meet the case—one of the most distressing of cases—where the father has died, where the bread-winner has gone, where the mother would like to keep the child, but simply lacks the earning capacity. Surely, in such a case the goal towards which we should strive is to help that mother so that she can keep her home and keep the child in it: that is the best thing possible to be done for that child.

"Then we come to the case of the child who must temporarily be taken away from the parent, or parents, but where it is not desirable that the separation should be permanent. Those children offer cases for which the institution is peculiarly fitted. There are other problems, of course, that you will have to deal with—for instance, the crippled child, the child that cannot be treated at home for a disease, but yet can be completely cured in a hospital; and the case of the child whose parents are hopelessly vicious or hopelessly inefficient.

Where to Draw Line.

"Here we must provide for the exercising of the greatest wisdom obtainable, in knowing just where to draw the line; so as to know just when it becomes necessary to say that even the undoubted advantages of keeping the child in a pretty poor home, if that home is its own, are counterbalanced by the fact that the home has become, not a source of benefit, but a source of menace and danger to the child. You will have to consider a dozen such problems.

"The government can do much. But never forget that the government cannot do everything; there must always be help by individuals, and associations outside; that religious and philanthropic associations of many different kinds must cooperate with the government, or we cannot get the best results. Another thing as to the government itself. Remember always the 'government' is not nearly an abstract term. The government consists of the men in it, and if you do not have the right men handling any part of a great governmental system, then that part will work badly. In the last analysis the human equation is the vital equation in dealing with all these questions. The wit of man cannot devise a system so perfect that it will work well unless it is worked by men, both good and wise, and unless outsiders, who take a genuine interest in the matter, also give their aid and exercise their supervision."

Emphatic Affirmative.

An emphatic affirmative was given to the question, "Should the state inspect the work of all child-caring agencies, including both institutions and home-finding societies?" by Amos W. Butler, secretary state board of charities, of Indianapolis, and Hugh F. Fox, president state board of children's guardians, New Jersey.

An affirmative answer was given to the question, "Should Child-Caring Agencies Aim to Cooperate with Each Other, and With Other Agencies of Social Betterment for the Purpose of Diminishing or Removing Altogether the Causes, Orphanage, of Child Destitution, and Child Delinquency." Among those who discussed this subject was Professor Charles R. Henderson, president National Childrens' Home Society.

The last topic was "Should the Approval of the State Board of Charities (or other body exercising similar power) Be Necessary to the Incorporation of All Child-Caring Agencies?" Timothy D. Hurley, Visitation and Aid Society, of Illinois, spoke.

Tonight a public meeting was held at the New Willard hotel.

Washington on the Negro.

At the meeting tonight Booker T. Washington, president of Tuskegee institute, in speaking about destitute colored children of the south, declared that the number of dependent children among his race is comparatively small. He said that although there were about 23,000 negroes in Macon county, Alabama, in which he lives, and although no discrimination is shown against receiving colored children at the county institution for dependent children, he found, as a result of a visit made to the place a few days ago, that there was not one colored child there, and that there had never been many there.

The speaker declared that the best place for the negro is in the rural districts of the south. "As you find the negro in the rural districts of the south," he asserted, "you will not find him a degraded creature, although he may be totally ignorant of book learning. As a rule the negro is not a beggar in any part of the country. Seldom do you see a black hand held out to you asking for alms. The negro does not often beg, neither does he starve.

"I suppose that the rule limiting the speakers at this meeting in their time," said Dr. Washington, "was made so that they will shoot right and hit what they shoot at. There have been some mistakes in the south in that respect."

David F. Tilley, of the Massachusetts state board of charities, spoke of the preservation of the family home.

Good Blood

Means good health, and Hood's Sarsaparilla has an unapproached record as a blood-purifier.

It effects its wonderful cures, not simply because it contains sarsaparilla but because it combines the utmost remedial values of more than 20 different ingredients. There is no real substitute for it. If urged to buy any preparation said to be "just as good" you may be sure it is inferior, costs less to make, and yields the dealer a larger profit.

Nervous Prostration

"I suffered so with Nervous Prostration that I thought there was no use trying to get well. A friend recommended Dr. Miles' Nervine, and although skeptical at first, I soon found myself recovering, and am to-day well."

MRS. D. I. JONES,
5800 Broadway, Cleveland, O.

Much sickness is of nervous origin. It's the nerves that make the heart force the blood through the veins, the lungs take in oxygen, the stomach digest food, the liver secrete bile and the kidneys filter the blood. If any of these organs are weak, it is the fault of the nerves through which they get their strength. Dr. Miles' Nervine is a specific for the nerves. It soothes the irritation and assists in the generation of nerve force. Therefore you can hardly miss it if you take Dr. Miles' Nervine when sick. Get a bottle from your druggist. Take it all according to directions, and if it does not benefit he will return your money.

FUNERAL OF R. W. CAUBLE AT HOME OF DAUGHTER

Old Veteran Was With Jefferson Davis When He Was Arrested.

The funeral of Robin W. Cauble, one of Jefferson Davis' bodyguards, who died Sunday morning at 9 o'clock, was conducted yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. W. B. Correll, of 55 Irwin street. Interment was in Westview.

ROBIN W. CAUBLE.
One or Jefferson Davis' Bodyguard.

Mr. Cauble became a member of Jefferson Davis' bodyguards near the close of the war, and was taken captive with the president in Irwin county, Georgia, and put in prison in Washington. Mr. Cauble had served from the beginning of the war with the confederate forces, and was a skilled pattern-maker and machinist in the naval yards, when he became President Davis' protector. The deceased was aged 73 years, and for the past three years had lived in Atlanta. His native home was in North Carolina.

AMERICAN IS ARRESTED AND ROUGHLY TREATED

Party of Naval Officers in Conflict With Police Officers.

Marseilles, January 25.—A party of American officers came into conflict with the police officers and one of the Americans was taken to the police station, where it is alleged, after a violent scene, the officer was subjected to violent treatment.

Rear Admiral Wainwright has personally protested to the authorities against the action of the police and a detailed report of the incident has been forwarded to the Prefect of Bouches du Rhone. The public prosecutor is investigating the case.

"SHEPHERD KING" SCORES GREAT HIT AT THE GRAND

"The Shepherd King," a romantic drama in four acts and five scenes, based upon the Biblical story of the life of David, was presented in a masterly manner by Wright Lorimer and his splendid company at the Grand last night, the beginning of a week's run of this sensation of the stage.

It was not the first appearance of this wonderful production, as it delighted thousands in Atlanta when here three years ago, and, for that reason, the staged version, which follows closely the spirit, if not the letter, of the legend upon which it is founded, is well known, and hence no extended review of the play in itself is necessary.

Seldom indeed, it is that so stupendous an offering as this can return to Atlanta after eight performances and attract so large and enthusiastic an audience as that which greeted the opening performance. It speaks volumes for the production, the theme and the treatment.

The large audience, which almost taxed the capacity of the theater, was made more brilliant by the presence of the officers of the Seventeenth infantry and their wives, Mayor Maddox and party, not to mention the many priests and preachers who occupied conspicuous seats on the floor of the theater. In honor of the soldiers, who occupied twelve of the sixteen boxes, they had all been decorated in immense American flags, which gave the theater a most delightful as well as patriotic appearance.

"Star Spangled Banner."

As a further compliment to them, when the orchestra assembled for the overture instead of the usual selection, there was a crash of cymbals, a fanfare of horns, and the orchestra sounded the first stirring notes of the "Star Spangled Banner."

In a moment, every officer in the theater was standing at attention, and the audience, catching the spirit of the demonstration, arose and remained standing until the late note of the martial anthem died away.

It was at the close of the third act, where Mr. Lorimer, a splendid actor, was at his best, that the audience voiced its appreciation by such vociferous applause that after bowing three times, at as many rises and falls of the curtain, he was forced to respond to a curtain call for a speech.

"Give me the lights," he began in an aside whisper to the master electrician at the switch board. "I want to see their faces."

When the lights had flared up brilliantly all over the house he began:

"It is a long way to have me come from 'David,' four thousand years ago, to the present, in a moment, and make you a speech that will tend to voice my appreciation and that of my dear company for your appreciation of our work. We often look back with pleasure to the week spent in Atlanta three years ago, and right here I want to tell you that I want to produce some great plays, and hope to return to Atlanta with them. It is a long time since five years ago we offered this, my first play, under my own management, when the critics predicted that we would fail, but we have continued, and have lived to see many of our contemporaries fade away, and today we don't know where our critics are.

"Then every one thought it would be a hard struggle to get the audiences away from 'Sapho' to see the 'Shepherd King,' but it does one good to know that they will come to see a play like 'The Shepherd King,' and go away with a clean taste in their mouths; will climb up to the skylight of their souls, and look out into the face of their God instead of down in the cellar, where all is slime, dirt and miasma. And now, on behalf of the management of the play, the house, my company and myself, I remain your affectionate, humble and devoted servant—" and the curtain fell. But there was another wave of applause rushing across the footlights, applauding the sentiment he had just expressed.

So much for the sidelights. Now for the play.

About the Play.

"The Shepherd King" is a great and good play, splendidly staged, admirably presented, and one which can but help to be seen.

It is a play that is as sweet as a breath of spring air, and as refreshing as a draught of spring water.

Contrary to the expectations of many, though taken from the story in the Bible, there is nothing contained which gives rise to any thought of sacrilege.

"The Shepherd King" is rich in scenic investiture. Nothing has been spared to make the play appear to be all that is intended that it should be. Even the incidental music is of the soft, sweet and crooning kind that is so mystical and appealing, and puts one in the frame of mind to enjoy the wonderful pictures that come slowly into view as the curtain slowly rises on some wonderfully staged scene of the Biblical days.

The costumes were rich and faithful replicas of the dress of the days of David, and, in fact, every effect that could be brought into play, even to the "Salome" dance, which the program denominated only as a "Solo dance," was to be seen. But, contrary to the usual dance of this description, there was nothing of the coarse or sensual about it.

As David, Wright Lorimer was superb. His poise was well nigh perfect; his readings splendid, and his every action carried conviction. He dominated the play, as it was to be expected, but his work could not have stood out so splendidly had it not been for the excellent support given him. Next, perhaps, in point of interest was the work of Prince Jonathan, son of Saul, as portrayed by Carl Eckstrom. Big of body and big of heart, he not only looked, but lived the part.

Graceful, with a commanding voice and splendid conception of the character he brought it out to its full strength. As Saul, Brigham Royce was good.

Frederica Going, as Princess Mical, beloved of David, was most acceptable. Graceful, gracious, with an appealing look and musical voice, she carried out charmingly the spirit of her role. But to give further notice would be to read off the roles. It is a good, strong play, and will please thousands during its stay of all this week.

At the Bijou.

"Gay New York" has grown so tame that it would eat out of a lady's hand. There are some clever songs, swell costumes, and one or two pretty girls, and the evening passes pleasantly enough, but the swift, mad pace of the past few weeks is gone.

The Bijou attraction this week is a ladies' show. Even at the matinee performance there were few objectionable features, and after Hugh Cardoza and other Bijou censors passed a few words with the managers and actors in this attraction it would have almost passed muster at a church festival.

The bald-head row, however, found one anchor to tie their rope to. There was a little girl, the end number on the right-hand side of the stage, who kept the attention of the men throughout. She was the cynosure of all eyes. In fact, when the chorus was on the stage she had about one-third of the "peepers" of the audience glued in her direction, but she was the only oasis in the desert.

Perhaps the most striking effects secured in the way of costuming came in one song, when the chorus appeared in red cloaks. While a girl's eyes may be black, or brown, or blue, and the effect the same to her best beau, the best stage effects are secured by the glaring, and the crowd placed their money on the red each time.

When it came to popularity, however, the honors went to "Hinky Dee." A foolish name at best, and foolish costumes the girls wore, for all apparent dressed as kids, and many of them will never see kiddish days again. But somehow the music, or the words, or the work of the chorus, or the costumes, or maybe the little girl on the right-hand side of the stage, had a personal appeal to nearly everyone, and time and time again singer and chorus were called back, until the girls were hardly able to drag their feet over the floor, and the singer developed a voice that would have done credit to the heaviest bass in Hammerstein's musical shop. Finally, in a reluctant mood and with very poor grace, the spectators let them go, until the next performance.

One word about the vaudeville end of the bill. Wilson, the bicyclist, seemed as much at home on the wheel as most of us are at the dinner table. There haven't been many stunts of this kind he can't do as easily as a nurse trundles a baby carriage. Then Sophie Tucker, billed as America's greatest coon shouter, was strong in figure and short in voice. But she had a smile, and that helped her with the public. She warmed her way into their appreciation without much effort. Her bad cold had put her voice on the bum.

BOBBY BURNS HONORED BY THE ATLANTA CLUB

The one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the birth of Robert Burns was celebrated by the Burns Club of Atlanta at their annual dinner at the Aragon hotel last night.

The dining room was decorated with American flags, while the bust of Burns resting on the mantel back of the president's chair had draped about it the British banner. Covers were laid for over two hundred people, the tables being arranged in the shape of a large C.

Before the feast began, a short business session was held, and the following officers for 1909 were elected: John Sinclair, president; Donald M. Bain, vice president; John M. Graham, secretary; Eugene F. King, treasurer, Joseph Jacobs, Alex S. Taylor, Thomas H. Morgan, Alex McLeod and Eugene Oberdorfer, trustees.

A feature of the elaborate Scotch "denner" that was served was the introduction of the "haggis," the famous highland dish. Headed by the waiter, who bore the steaming hot dish, and the bagpipe, with its player dressed in plaid kilts, the members and guests marched once around the table, keeping step with the wierd notes of the Scotch instrument. Burns' poem on the haggis was then read.

Mr. Cameron, who was reelected president, delivered his annual address, and among the speakers were Judge Joseph Henry Lumpkin and Dr. Joseph Jacobs. Mr. McClaughrey, who was dressed in full highland uniform, recited one of Burns' famous poems.

Charles W. Hubner, who was a guest, read a sonnet he composed for the occasion. With the singing of "Auld Lang Syne," the dinner was brought to a close.

Though the Burns Club is not composed of Scotchmen exclusively, yet every member had the spirit of that country and of its poet on this occasion, which will go on record as the most enjoyable ever held by this well-known club.

CLEARS THE COMPLEXION OVERNIGHT

Pimples, Rash, Eruptions, Etc., Quickly Eradicated by New Skin Remedy.

Since its discovery one year ago, poslam, the new skin remedy, has, in its extraordinary accomplishments, exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the eminent specialist who gave it to the world. It has cured thousands of cases of eczema and eradicated facial and other disfigurements of years' standing. The terrible itching attending eczema is stopped with the first application, giving proof of its curative properties at the very outset.

In less serious skin affections, such as pimples, rash, herpes, blackheads, acne, barber's itch, etc., results show after an overnight application, only a small quantity being required to effect a cure. Those who use poslam for these minor skin troubles can now avail themselves of the special 50-cent package, recently adopted to meet such needs. Both the 50-cent package and the regular $2 jar may now be obtained in Atlanta at Jacobs' Pharmacy, Brannen's drug store and other leading drug stores.

Samples for experimental purposes may be had free of charge by writing direct to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth Street, New York City.

A Trifle Impertinent.

"Most o' de bruddren, I s pleased to say, has been tollable lib'ral," a bit severely began good old Parson Bagster when the result of the collection had been reported to him, "but I regret to state dat de sistahs has been dess de diverse. Dey has contributed sca'cely nuthin' to de again fund. 'Tain't as if dey isn't got no money. Sistahs, lemme ax yo': Whuh does yo' putt yo' money? De Lawd knows—"

"Dat's all right, pahson!" interrupted Brother Tarr, rising in his place in the midst of the congregation. "Dat's all right 'bout de Lawd knowin'. Lawd knows whuh sistahs in gen'l putts deir money, but isn't yo' gittin' slightly spectacular in axin' de infawmation for yo'se'f? Yassah, dess a little spectacular?"

It is not wise to trust the judgment of the man who fears that his reputation is not equal to his character.

RITCHEY CASES ARE DISMISSED

"A Frivolous Prosecution", Declares Judge Ridley.

Prosecution Based on the Fact Several Pages in Their Account Book Had Been Torn Out.

"A frivolous prosecution," was the way Judge J. B. Ridley termed the charges against E. D. Ritchey and E. D. Ritchey, Jr., of Chicago, as he dismissed the warrants sworn out against them by Charles A. Ritchey, also of Chicago, son of the old man and brother of the younger defendant. Winfield P. Jones represented the defendants, and Lamar Hill the prosecutor.

The Ritcheys, father and son, were charged by Charles A. Ritchey, head of the Ritchey Portrait Company, of 320 New Era building, Chicago, with irregularity in their accounts with the Ritchey Portrait Company, by whom they were employed. Charles A. Ritchey said several pages of statements in their account book had been torn out and destroyed, and that this was probably done to cover the alleged shortage.

E. D. Ritchey said this was done to settle a dispute between his two sons. He and his son denied any attempt to defraud.

The elder Ritchey is said to be a man of means, and to own considerable property in Chicago and the state of Texas. He and his elder son are still unreconciled. Charles A. Ritchey goes back to Chicago this morning.

The trial began in the early morning and lasted until 8 o'clock last night with occasional intermissions.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WEAK?

Thousands of Men and Women Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

Nature warns you when the track of health is not clear. Kidney and bladder trouble compel you to pass water often through the day and get up many times during the night.

Unhealthy kidneys cause lumbago, rheumatism, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints or muscles, at times have headache or indigestion, as time passes you may have a sallow complexion, puffy or dark circles under the eyes, sometimes feel as though you had heart trouble, may have plenty of ambition, but no strength, get weak and waste away.

If such conditions are permitted to continue, serious results are sure to follow; Bright's disease, the very worst form of kidney trouble, may steal upon you.

Prevalency of Kidney Disease.

Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalency of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patient and physicians, who content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease undermines the system.

A Trial Will Convince Anyone.

If you are sick or feeling badly, begin taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better, they will help the other organs to health. In taking Swamp-Root, you afford natural help to Nature, for Swamp-Root is a gentle healing vegetable compound—a specialist's prescription for a specific disease.

You cannot get rid of your aches and pains if your kidneys are out of order. You cannot feel right when your kidneys are wrong.

Swamp-Root Is Pleasant to Take.

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at all drug stores. Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., which you will find on every bottle.

TAFT PARTY SAILS FROM CHARLESTON

President-Elect Expresses Keen Appreciation.

Mr. and Mrs. Taft, Aboard Battleship North Carolina, Set Sail for Inspection of the Isthmian Canal.

Charleston, S. C., January 25.—President-elect and Mrs. Taft and party, including a small staff of distinguished civil engineers selected to inspect with the president-elect the isthmian canal, sailed for Panama early today. The party will reach New Orleans on the return trip on February 13.

The two big warships, the North Carolina and the Montana, as they swung out into the harbor and passed out to sea attracted considerable attention. Aboard the big cruiser North Carolina were the president-elect, his ruddy cheeks attesting the benefit he had gained from the golf links at Augusta, and his immediate party, including Mrs. Taft, and Wendell Mischler, his assistant secretary, who has been with Mr. Taft since Secretary Carpenter left for California to recuperate his health, and the party of engineers also was aboard that vessel. Aboard each craft was a secret service agent, L. C. Wheeler on the North Carolina and Richard Jarvis on the Montana, both of whom will remain with the party throughout the trip.

As Mr. Taft came on board the North Carolina a national salute of twenty guns was fied. Everything had been made ready to get under way and within a few minutes of their boarding the party was on their way to Panama. The ship passed down the harbor at good speed. The torpedo boat Dupont convoyed the cruiser down the bay. The tender Cypress, with an artillery band from Fort Moultrie aboard, took other members of the party to the Montana, and, as the president-elect's ship came out, saluted with national airs. There was no stop made after passing out to sea, and, with signals of farewell flying, the two cruisers were soon hull down on the southern horizon.

Mr. Taft expressed the keenest appreciation of the cordial welcome and whole-souled hospitality extended to him by the people of Charleston and said he had enjoyed his brief stay in this city greatly.

Senator Knox returned to Washington this afternoon. Chairman Hitchcock, who came here at Mr. Taft's request, will remain a day or two, probably.

HOLDS R. C. NORMAN MAY RETAIN SEAT

Resignation as Solicitor Makes Him Eligible.

Attorney General John C. Hart Finds Solution to Puzzle of Representative-Elect R. C. Norman.

The case of Representative-elect R. C. Norman, of Wilkes county, thought to be very much of a puzzle, becomes very much simplified upon careful consideration of the law.

Mr. Norman, after reading the decision of the supreme court in the McWilliams case, that inasmuch as he held a commission from the state as solicitor of the city court of Washington at the time of his election to the house, he was disqualified, therefore tendered his resignation to the governor.

The question was asked how could he resign until he had qualified, and how could he qualify if he was ineligible?

Notwithstanding the decision of the supreme court, Attorney General John C. Hart holds, after an inspection of the law, that the holding of a commission as solicitor of the city court did not disqualify Mr. Norman from election to the general assembly, but that it would disqualify him from holding his seat therein.

In other words, Mr. Norman will become legally a member of the general assembly, provided his term as solicitor expires or he resigns as such before he takes the oath of office as a legislator.

But, in any event, under the constitution of the state, the house of representatives is the sole judge of the qualifications of its own members. And even though it might be illegal for Mr. Norman to remain both solicitor of the city court of Washington and a member of the house, the latter body has it within its power under the constitution so to decide, though it is hardly likely that it would permit a member illegally to retain his seat.

Under this view of the case, it becomes very much simplified. Mr. Norman has only to tender his resignation as solicitor before he takes the oath as a legislator, and there will be no further trouble about it.

A SQUARE-DEAL

Is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicines—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and these are attested under oath as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests and while potent to cure are perfectly harmless—even to the most delicate women and children.

Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. A much better agent is used both for extracting and preserving the medicinal principles in them, viz.—pure triple-refined glycerine. This agent possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own, being a most valuable antiseptic and antiferment, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, heart-burn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or other organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures even the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on-coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but for all the obstinate, chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken.

To find out more about the above mentioned diseases and all about the body in health and disease, get the Common Sense Medical Adviser—the People's Schoolmaster in Medicine—revised and up-to-date book of 1000 pages—which treats of diseased conditions and the practical, successful treatment thereof. Cloth-bound sent post-paid on receipt of 31 cents in one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

CHARGES TO BE MADE AGAINST U. S. SENATOR

Stephenson, of Wisconsin, Will Be Attacked by Republicans.

Madison, Wis., January 25.—"Definite and specific changes will be filed against United States Senator Isaac Stephenson at the meeting of the senate tomorrow morning, at 9 o'clock," was the declaration of Senator J. A. Blaine, of Boscabel, today.

"The charges will be made by the republicans," he said. "I am not at liberty to say who will file or give specific facts, but I know they will be filed."

"Just how will those charges be preferred?" was asked the senator.

"I presume by the presentation of the documents from the floor of the senate," he answered. The senator also suggested that he believed the senate could not escape the consideration of them.

Revival at Tallapoosa.

Tallapoosa, Ga., January 25.—(Special.)—The successful revival meetings of the Presbyterian church were terminated Sunday night. Rev. F. E. Taylor, the pastor of the church, was ably assisted by Rev. Frank D. Hunt, the regular evangelist of the Atlanta presbytery. During the ten days' meeting he has accomplished a remarkable spiritual work in strengthening all the churches, for they all united in the services. The Bible studies and prominent Biblical themes aroused many dormant Christians and caused them to become active.

Japan to Reduce Armament

Tokio, January 25.—Marquis Katsura, the premier; Count Jaturo Komura, the minister of foreign affairs, and Viscount Terauchi, the minister of war, made brief speeches today before the diet in answer to the reduction in armaments and foreign policy questions that have been propounded to various members of the cabinet. All of the speeches, which were practically of the same tenor, said that Japan's relations with the powers of the world were so improved that the proposed reductions were fully warranted.

HUGHES IN A CONTEST WITH HIS PARTY LEADERS

Direct Nomination System Favored by the Governor Is Cause of Clash.

Albany, N. Y., January 25.—The conflict between Governor Hughes and the legislative leaders over the direct nomination system recommended by the governor appears to be fairly under way. Both Senator Raines, president pro tem. of the senate, and Speaker Wadsworth, of the assembly, issued statements today, in which they take exceptions to some of the governor's statement on the subject, made at the recent Hughes alliance dinner in New York.

Governor Hughes tonight declined to comment on these statements. It is understood that the governor has a tentative list of speaking engagements arranged during the next few weeks, at which he will launch further arguments in support of his proposed election reforms.

Speaker Wadsworth has declared his intention of speaking in the western section of the state next month to explain why he is opposed to direct nominations.

Senator Raines believes that under the present "Time honored system of caucus and convention it is in the power of the majority of the voters of any party to obtain exactly what they desire."

Fire in The Enquirer-Sun.

Columbus, Ga., January 25.—(Special.)—Fire originated in an unknown manner in the basement of the office of The Enquirer-Sun today and the plant had a narrow escape from destruction. In the basement considerable damage was done by fire and water to a large stock of paper. The press room was flooded. The paper will not miss an issue. The firemen extinguished the flames just as they were bursting through the floor near the row of linotype machines. The damage is covered by insurance.

Every ALIVE person should leap to meet this great opportunity of reading "MARTIN EDEN," Jack London's latest, best and biggest novel, which will begin serially in Uncle Remus's—The Home Magazine in the February issue. Dr. Harding Consecrated.

Washington, January 25.—Rev. Dr. Alfred Harding was today consecrated as bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Washington, at historical Trinity Episcopal church. Dr. Harding, who has for twenty years been rector of St. Paul's church here, recently was elected to succeed the late Bishop Henry Y. Satterlee.

Have you tried Clinchfield? The Coal of Quality.

IN THE COURTS

Fulton county grand jury meets on Wednesday morning in Solicitor Hill's office. It is expected at that time the question of whether the resorts under the Washington street viaduct will or will not be moved is to come up. The limit of time for moving expired on the 21st. The police board has not taken any action. It is thought this grand jury will make a move one way or the other, for it is up to them to either uphold or reverse the suggestions of the last grand jury, which were that the resorts should be moved.

Mrs. Alice Moore Bentley yesterday filed suit against the City of Atlanta for $10,000 damages. She claims that, while walking along Forsyth street, between Mitchell and Hunter streets, she fell into an excavation, sustaining serious injuries. She is represented by Attorney R. R. Arnold.

Evidently an amateur burglar broke into the store of Werner M. Jeffries, son of Grand Master Thomas Jeffries, at Bolton, Ga., early yesterday morning. He blew up the safe, and took all the money therein—only $5. If the burglar had been of an investigating turn of mind, he would not have blown open the safe, for it was not even locked. The matter was reported to the county police.

GOV.-ELECT AT DARIEN.

Was Given an Oyster Roast and Fish Fry.

Darien, Ga., January 25.—(Special.)—Governor-elect Joseph M. Brown arrived here today from Brunswick on the steamer Hessie, accompanied by Mrs. Brown, Colonel C. P. Goodyear, Mayor R. R. Hopkins and wife, of Brunswick; Colonel H. T. Dunn, and others. He was escorted to the hotel by Mayor T. A. Biley and Editor R. W. Grubb. After luncheon at Vernon Square he was introduced by Hon. F. H. MacFarland, where he made a short speech.

An oyster roast and a fish fry was next on the program and was enjoyed by all present. Mr. and Mrs. Brown will be the guests of Mrs. Downey, at Ridgeville, her beautiful country home, this evening.

NOTHING BUT RUMORS.

Resignation of Chief Justice and Gov. Comer Denied.

Montgomery, Ala., January 25.—(Special.)—Chief Justice Tyson denies that he has submitted his resignation to Governor Comer, as was intimated in an afternoon paper. He says the report is without foundation. The rumor printed in the same paper that Governor Comer may resign to run for the United States senate is taken as a joke. There is an impression, however, that Judge Tyson will resign some time in the future, though he refuses to confirm it.

DANIEL WATER

Keeps the Stomach Healthy

When a catarrhal condition of the stomach exists, there is a large quantity of vitiated mucus secreted from the membrane. Not only is this a weakening drain on the system, but it interferes with digestion. The food lies undigested in the stomach because the gastric juice is weakened from the catarrhal mucus; gas forms, there is a sense of fullness in the stomach, and headaches are frequent.

Daniel Water corrects this condition; its alkaline properties neutralizing the impure stomach acids and removing the mucus from the glands and ducts. Nothing is more beneficial for catarrhal conditions of the stomach than the mineral alkalies, and Daniel Water contains these sulphates in large proportions. It keeps the stomach clean and healthy, and greatly aids digestion. Price 10c. per gal. at the spring. Daniel Mineral Water Co., Union Point, Ga.

GIRL BECOMES BRIDE BY CORPSE OF FATHER

Wedding Celebrated at Chicago Under Unusual Circumstances.

New York, January 25.—Married in the same room where lay her father's body in a coffin, Miss Daisy Helme, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., is now the bride of Francis M. Oliver, of London, England. The ceremony was performed Saturday night, but it was not generally known until yesterday. The bride's father, John C. Helme, an accountant, was asphyxiated at his home Wednesday, accidentally, according to the coroner's verdict, but arrangements for the wedding were not halted. The same minister was in charge of both the funeral service and the wedding ceremony, and relatives who gathered for the funeral were present at the quiet and sorrowful wedding.

Court of Inquiry.

Montgomery, Ala., January 25.—The court of inquiry for investigation of the conduct of Charles R. Brycken, colonel of the Second regiment, will assemble Thursday, according to General Robert F. Ligon, of the National Guard, who is a member. There is some question of the right of the colonel to make certain expenditures as head of the regiment and he has asked that the matter be settled at once.

GAME OF CARDS ENDS IN FATAL SHOOTING

Frank Webb Killed Late Saturday Night on Outskirts of Alpharetta.

Alpharetta, Ga., January 25.—(Special.)—Lying face upward in a pine thicket not far from Alpharetta, with playing cards and bits of small coin scattered about, the body of Frank Webb, aged 19, was found late Sunday afternoon by a stroller through the woods. A bullet wound through the heart told a part of the story, and the coroner and his jury are busy today in trying to learn the rest of it.

Five white boys and eight negroes are locked in Milton county jail today following the investigation. They were companions of young Webb in the card game, it is alleged. One of the boys, it is said, has practically confessed to the firing of the shot that killed young Webb.

The white boys under arrest are Bartow, Ernest and Elijah Smith, brothers; Cain Gunter and Homer Tribble.

Young Webb's father, E. C. Webb, was sheriff of Milton county five years ago, and the family is a well-known one.

COURT HITS TRUSTS HARD.

Mississippi Anti-Trust Statutes Upheld by Supreme Court.

Jackson, Miss., January 25.—In an opinion handed down this afternoon, the Mississippi supreme court sustained the validity of the anti-trust statutes which had been made a subject of attack in the Hinds county chancery court, and holds that the alleged cotton oil mill trust has been guilty of violating these statutes.

The opinion of the court was read by ex-Chief Justice J. A. P. Campbell, serving as special justice instead of Justice Fletcher, who was disqualified by reason of the fact that he filed the original proceedings when serving as attorney general.

The decision is of exceptional importance because it virtually decides similar cases pending against the American Snuff Company and the Mississippi-Louisiana Retail Lumber Dealers' Association.

Wants Special Venire.

Jackson, Miss., January 25.—William Sorsby, slayer of Postoffice Inspector Charles Fitzgerald, informed the district attorney today that he will demand a special venire and force the case to a trial at the March term of the circuit court in this city.

It is expected that the department at Washington will instruct United States District Attorney R. C. Lee to take part in the prosecution.

Fire at Roswell.

Roswell, Ga., January 25.—(Special.)—The Presbyterian manse here was destroyed by fire last night. It is thought that the house had been ransacked by burglars, who afterwards set fire to it in order to cover their work. The loss will probably amount to several thousand dollars, partially covered by insurance.

FISHERIES QUESTION TO BE SENT TO HAGUE

Secretary Root Has Reached Agreement With British Government.

Washington, January 25.—An agreement has been reached between Secretary Root and the British and Canadian and Newfoundland governments through their representatives on the Newfoundland fisheries question, to be submitted to The Hague for arbitration.

The result of the negotiations was immediately cabled to the home governments with a view to formal approval of the questions to be arbitrated. Mr. Root hopes to go before the senate foreign relations committee tomorrow and explain its provisions. The treaty will have to be sent to the United States senate for ratification.

Questions which The Hague will be asked to interpret arise under the execution of article I of the treaty of October 20, 1818, and in deciding the controversial points the tribunal will have to pass on a very broad and important question as to whether state or colonial laws or regulations may interfere with the terms of a treaty. The later question confronted the administration in a most perplexing way in the Japanese school question and threatens to become an important factor in case the bills pending before the California legislature affecting the Japanese become laws.

HERO OF SEA CRASH LAUDED IN THE HOUSE

Congress Pays Tribute to the Bravery of Marconi Operator.

Washington, January 25.—Pausing for a moment in its legislative activities, the house of representatives today listened to an eulogy of John R. Binns, the Marconi operator aboard the trans-Atlantic liner Republic, who remained at his post until the ship went down, following the collision Saturday with the Florida. Mr. Boutell, of Illinois, was given unanimous consent to address the house "on a matter of public interest." After referring to the collision, Mr. Boutell, amid loud applause, said that throughout the whole critical period, "there was one silent actor in the tragedy whose name should be immortalized."

He specifically mentioned Binns by name, and in conclusion said:

"Binns has given the world a splendid illustration of the heroism that dwells in many who are doing the quiet, unnoticed tasks of life. Is it not an inspiration for all of us to feel that there are heroes for every emergency and that in human life no danger is so great that some 'Jack' Binns is not ready to face it?"

THREE MEN WERE KILLED

And Ten Others Injured in a Coal Mine Accident.

Cumberland, Md., January 25.—Three men were killed and ten others injured, three fatally, in a coal mine accident at Piedmont, W. Va., today.

Two cars loaded with miners were ascending the plane at the mine of the Piedmont and Georges Creek Coal Company at that place this morning. Near the top the cars became uncoupled and dashed with fearful rapidity down the incline and collided with other cars at the bottom. James Coudry, William Hamilton and an unidentified Italian were killed outright. James Wright and two Italians sustained injuries which may result fatally.

STOCK YARDS CASE IS LOST BY SOUTHERN

Louisville and Nashville Sustained by United States Supreme Court.

Washington, January 25.—The supreme court of the United States today reversed the decision of the Kentucky court of appeals, requiring the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company to switch and deliver to the Southern Railway Company live stock shipped over the former road in its own cars and consigned to the central yards. The stock yards are located on the Southern road, nine miles out of Louisville, and it was charged that in an effort to discriminate in favor of the Bourbon stock yards, the Louisville and Nashville Company has refused to make the transfer to the Southern road, notwithstanding the lines connect at more than one place in and near Louisville.

The opinion was announced by Justice Holmes, and proceeded on the theory that the transfer requirement was an interference with interstate commerce. Justices Harlan, McKenna and Moody dissented.

The case affects the constitution of Kentucky, as it was under a provision in it, and not under a state law, that the attempt was made to compel the transfer. The effect of the decision is to hold the provision ineffective without law.

SON OF AN EARL HELD ON A FORGERY CHARGE

Man in Missouri Jail Claims to Be Son of the Earl of Aberdeen.

Mexico, Mo., January 25.—Asserting that he is the eldest son of John Campbell Gordon, earl of Aberdeen, a British peer, a prisoner in the Audrian county jail who has been under arrest for over a week for an alleged forgery, last night made his first statement to the police. When arrested the man gave his name as L. F. Leland and said he lived in Wyoming. He is charged with forging a check for $150 upon a local merchant.

In his statement Gordon says:

"My father is John Campbell Gordon, seventh earl of Aberdeen. He is 64 years old and I am 39. I left home eighteen years ago and came to this country on account of differences in England. I have been in the west several years and have gone under the name of Lyle F. Leland."

Gordon attributes his present condition to dissipation. He seemingly possesses an excellent education.

NEGRO KILLS YOUNG MAN.

Two Dead as Result of Negro's Attempt to Invade Premises.

Donaldsonville, Ga., January 25.—(Special.)—Jesse Stephens, the young son of Alex Stephens, a promient planter living a few miles north of here, was shot and instantly killed by an unknown negro last night near their home.

It seems that the Stephens brothers had warned this negro off their premises on account of the negro trying to persuade Mr. Stephens' laborers to leave. The negro left, but later on he waylaid Jesse Stephens and his three brothers in the road, firing on them with an automatic shotgun. Some of them commenced firing on the negro, and when the fight was over the negro and Jesse Stephens were found dead.

GEORGIA MEETS ATLANTA FIVE

FastBasketball at Athletic Club Thursday Night.

Georgia Five Is Husky, Fast and Experieneed — A Large Crowd Is Expected—Dancing After Game.

The University of Georgia basketball five will be the next opponents of the Atlanta Athletic Club team. The game is set for Thursday night at 8:30 o'clock and it promises to be the best game of the season. This has been said of each game the club has played, but when it is further remarked that it is going to be even better than the game with Columbus, then "there is some class to that."

Georgia has a strong, fast and experienced team, the latter requisite being especially predominate, as there is not a man on the team who has not played basketball for at least two years and some of them have played it since they were able to hold the ball.

Georgia boasts of having three players from the Columbus Young Men's Christian Association team of last year, which team won the championship of the south in easy style. They are Peacock, center; Lewis, forward, and Buttoph, guard. The other players on the team are all experienced college players and know the game thoroughly. They are Derrick, forward; Von Sprecken (captain), guard; Forbes and Griffith, guards.

The local team will line up with Atkisson, the Virginia star, at center; Hudson and Captain Doonan, forwards, and Post, the Columbia University football star, and Nat Thornton, the southern tennis champion, at guards.

The largest crowd of the season will no doubt turn out, as Georgia has a world of alumni living in Atlanta, and, with those members of the club who take in every game, the crowd should tax the capacity of the hall.

The dancing feature will be given again after the game, and those who have attended the previous dances realize what a good time is in store for them.

Columbus Wants To Play Atlanta Deciding Game

Neutral Ground Is Suggested. Auburn Named as Suitable Meeting Place.

The Columbus Young Men's Christian Association basketball team is anxious to play the Atlanta Athletic Club five a third and deciding game, and suggests that it be played off on a neutral ground, suggesting Auburn, Ala., as the best place.

Columbus realizes that the Atlanta club's court is not the place to play the game, and they both agree that the Columbus court is not the place, either, but it is doubtful if the club men will agree to play in Auburn.

One of the local players made the following suggestion in the matter: "I think the best place to play the game would be in Atlanta, provided a place large enough to hold the crowd that would turn out could be secured, and the Auditorium-Armory strikes me as being just the place."

This seems to be a good suggestion, and the club officials and those of the Columbus team will probably get together and try to make the arrangements. It would be a money-maker if played in Atlanta. Both teams seem to realize that fact, and it is doubtful if a better or larger floor than the Auditorium-Armory could be found anywhere.

Keeps Them Awake.

"What sort of protection have you against burglars?"

"The best yet."

"Who invented it?"

"The Lord knows; it's a baby."

Dorando to Race Hayes.

St. Paul, Minn., January 25.—It was announced today that Dorando Pietri, the Italian runner, and John Hayes, of New York, will meet in a 15-mile race here on the evening of February 22.

ATLANTA A. C. RESERVES PLAY YELLOW JACKETS

Fast Preliminary Game for the Club Thursday Night—Both Teams Are Confident.

As a preliminary game to the meeting between the Atlanta Athletic Club basketball team and the five from the University of Georgia, the club's second team and the five from the Georgia School of Technology will meet, the first half starting at 8 o'clock and the second being played during the intermission between the big game.

Tech has not done so well in basketball this year, but the Yellow Jackets are going to try to sting the club's second team when they meet as revenge for the defeats administered thus far.

Tech has good material on her team; it is new and needs developing, but the players are willing to play and eager to learn the game, and the ferocity with which they fight all the way through makes them dangerous opponents for any team.

The Yellow Jackets will line up as follows: Bostwick at center, Captain Meyers and Dawson at forwards, and Bailey and Harris at guards.

The club's second team will line up with Spencer at center, Captain Jemison and McGovern at forwards, and Colquitt, Ramspeck or Gray at guards.

This game should prove an interesting one, and will probably be as fiercely fought as the big game. Both teams are going after the victory with the odds a trifle in favor of the club team.

ATTELL TO DEFEND TITLE AGAINST EDDY KELLY

New Orleans, January 25.—Abe Attell, of San Francisco, is to again defend in New Orleans his title as featherweight champion. The bout has been arranged between him and Eddy Kelly, of Chicago, for February 4. It will take place before the Southern Athletic Club and will be limited to ten rounds.

SEWANEE TIGERS PLAY L. S. U. ELEVEN IN FALL

The Sewanee Tigers will take on the Louisiana State university football team on their schedule for the fall of 1909. This news will be heard with pleasure by the football fans of the south, as there will be some comparison drawn between this team and the others in the south on account of this meeting. The date is set for October 30, and the game will be played in New Orleans.

Responsible for Mine Horror.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., January 25.—George W. Steele, superintendent of the Mount Lookout Colliery of the Temple Coal and Iron Company, near Pittston, was today found guilty of negligence in causing the disaster of May 12 last, when twelve men were killed and thirteen others injured in the mine. The court held that he was negligent in failing to provide extra main doors in the gangways of the mine, as required by law.

CHARLES W. BOYER HAS RESIGNED

Will Not Be Candidate for Reelection.

Ex-Mayor W. R. Joyner Seems to Be the Choice for the Place—Election Takes Place January 31.

Charles W. Boyer, of Hagerstown, Md., who has been the president of the South Atlantic League ever since its organization, in a letter to the directors of the league, handed in his resignation as the league's president, and stated that under no consideration would he be a candidate for the place at the election to be held on January 31.

The place now seems to go by mutual consent to ex-Mayor W. R. Joyner, of Atlanta, whom the clubs of the league have been considering for the place for some time. Mr. Joyner is the man for the place. He knows baseball from all sides and should make a good head for this fast little league.

The cause of Mr. Boyer's resignation is not said to be the result of the factional row that has been started against him, but to be the result of business reasons. He is the owner of theaters at Hagerstown, Hancock, Martinsburg and Williamsport, and it is thought that it is his intention to give all his time to his theatrical interests.

"Cap" Joyner is not sure that he will accept the place if it is tendered to him. He says that he will go around the Sallie League circuit first and investigate the existing conditions, and if they are to his liking he may consider the place. Mr. Joyner's election would do away with the factional rows that are now going on in the league, as Atlanta not being represented in the league would enable him to make all decisions regarding territorial matters without having to consider his home town in the least.

JOINER SELLS OUT.

Soft and Stiff Hats cleaned, dyed and reshaped at Bussey's, 28½ Whitehall.

Fighter on Spin Nearly Pinched By Constable

"Kid" Stein on Jaunt on Railroad Tracks — Officer Ordered Him Off.

Julius Stein, of Chicago, known to all those who are on speaking terms with him as "Kid," accompanied by his manager, Frank White, arrived in Atlanta yesterday, and forthwith came out with a challenge to all the lightweights in the south for a match for any number of rounds and for any size purse.

Stein always makes it a point to keep in good physical condition, whether he has a fight booked or not, and yesterday he came near landing in the lockup while out on his trial spin.

The story is best told in Stein's own words: "I started out on a jog trot yesterday morning, thinking I would reel off about fifteen miles and return to the hotel. I started down the railroad track, on the side of which was a good roadbed of cinders, and I tell you it was great going. I never noticed that I was on property marked 'private' until one of those fellows with a star shield on his breast, proclaiming him to be the 'constable of Pumpkin Valley,' jumped out from behind a shed and told me to skiddoo. He was obdurate, and would not listen to my plea about having to train to keep in shape, and having found a good track, etc. It was vamoose for yours truly, and Dorando was not in it with me the way I hit the high places over that road."

Stein is well pleased with Atlanta, the climate, the streets and the pretty girls, but is going to pass up the jaunts down the railroad tracks from now on, and will hie out over the macademized roads.

SAVANNAH.

Savannah, Ga., January 25.—A fair crowd saw the racing at Thunderbolt track this afternoon. In the fourth event, Lady Fitz Herbert came in first, but her victory was disallowed, as she had fouled several of the entries at the first turn. Burns was not put down, but the race went to Nioless, who came in second. Miss Marjorie won the fifth race with a rush. Summaries:

FIRST RACE—Non-winners of more than one race during the meeting; selling; one mile: Clifton Forge, 5 to 2, won; Haneway, 6 to 1, second; Arawaka, 6 to 5, third. Time, 1:45.

SECOND RACE—Purse $150; selling; mile and furlong: Galileo, 4 to 5, won; Besterling, 4 to 1, second; Countermand, 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:59.

THIRD RACE—Purse $150; selling, five and a half furlongs: May Jene, even, won; Tomochichi, 9 to 5, second; Roger de Coverley, third. Time, 1:11.

FOURTH RACE—Purse $150; selling; six furlongs: Nioless, 2 to 1, won; W. G. Williams, 15 to 1, second; May Market, 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:17. Lady Fitz Herbert finished first, but was disqualified for fouling.

FIFTH RACE—Purse $150; about seven furlongs: Miss Marjorie, 6 to 5, won; Whisk Broom, 5 to 2, second; Ray Thompson, 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:29.

TENNY AND MERKLE SIGN GIANTS' CONTRACTS

New York, January 25.—(Special.)—Fred Tenney, the brilliant first baseman of the New York Giants, was the first man to affix his signature to a 1909 contract, and "Old Ginger" is looking forward to an even better season during the coming one. Tenney is wintering at Winthrop, Mass., where he owns a summer cottage by the sea.

Fred Merkle, the man who caused such a stir in baseball circles last year by his failure to touch second base in the game with Chicago, was the second man to turn in his contract, and he is said to have received a substantial increase in his salary, along with the contract. McGraw believes there is plenty of good baseball in Merkle, and he says he is going to bring it out this season.

Believes Locke Law Permits Some Betting

Joseph A. Murphy Gives Out Opinion on New Orleans Races.

New Orleans, January 25.—"There is not the slightest doubt that the Locke bill permits some form of betting. There should be enough people in Louisiana to determine what that form is without taking the chance of sending some one to the parish prison. When that point is determined we can shape our business to conform to the law."

Such is the opinion of Joseph A. Murphy, who succeeded in launching the Suburban race meet, which lasted only a few days before legal interruption came. With a contemplation of being able to conform with the law in some way, he says:

"Suppose I succeeded in merging the four race tracks, and turn over to the newly organized business league the framing of the policy for their operation. We do not want a racing commission, because that brings racing into politics, where it has no place, but the Business Men's League could appoint a committee of five to see that no abuses crept into the racing.

"We would close the Suburban and the Louisiana Jockey Club half-mile track. There would be no Sunday or summer racing, and we would operate one or both of the big tracks for thirty, sixty, ninety or one hundred days, as the business men thought proper. No one who owned a dollar's worth of stock in the tracks should run a horse over them, and racing should be clean and above reproach.

"There must be betting of some kind, but that betting should be made wholly subservient to the sport itself, and no one interested in the tracks should have any interest in the betting."

Another case growing out of the alleged violation of the Locke law came up today in the district court of Jefferson parish. This was the case of Jack Sheehan and W. E. Ralston, who were arrested Friday just before the close of the Suburban race track at McDonoghville. The day was spent in argument over the contention of counsel for the defense that District Attorney Adams, of the parish court of Orleans, had no right to prosecute the case in place of L. H. Marrero, Jr., excused. The court ruled against the defendants in this contention, and the case will come to trial with Adams as the chief prosecutor.

Sailor Walsh Now Champion Of the South

Won Decision Over Christensen Last Night by a Foul—Preliminaries Were Good.

The heavy-weight championship of the south was won last night by Sailor Walsh, of St. Louis, in the third round, as the result of a foul committed by Al Christensen, who was the owner of the title until last night.

The fight started off fast and furious, Christensen doing the leading and boring in, punishing his man severely. Walsh, however, seemed to be immune from punishment, and, although Christensen rained blow after blow on his face and body he did not wince, but went back after more.

The first two rounds were in Christensen's favor, and so was part of the third. In the last round Christensen knocked Walsh down and then hit him twice before he could get up, thus committing a deliberate foul, on the strength of whichh the referee awarded the bout to Walsh.

Three preliminary matches were pulled off, and they just whetted the appetites of the large crowd for what was to follow. Meyer Pries and Kid Brooks, two featherwights, fought four rounds to a draw.

Tommy Spencer and Kid Logan went three rounds, this bout also being called a draw. Logan had the odds in the first round, Spencer in the second and the third was a draw.

Kid Vittur and Burke went three rounds, but this fight was stopped in the last round by the police. Vittur had the advantage of the first two rounds, knocking Burke down five times, and he was then asked to stop that kind of tactics by the police. He refused and the second blow he hit Burke sent him to the mat. The police refused to allow the fight to go on, but it would not have any way, as Burke took the count.

Vittur was presented a medal by admiring fight-fans of the city for the fine work shown during the past year in the ring. Vittur announced that the report that he was knocked out in Charleston was an error, but he admitted that Goldman defeated him.

Tech and Georgia.

Athens, Ga., January 25.—(Special.)—It can be definitely stated now that all objections to the resumption of athletic relations between Georgia and Tech have been removed so far as the authorities of the two institutions are concerned. The question of arranging a schedule of baseball games between the two institutions this spring will now be referred to the athletic board, and decided by that body. There seems to be little doubt about the games being arranged.

SHRUBB-LONGBOAT RACE IS POSTPONED AGAIN

New York, January 25.—(Special.)—Owing to an injury to one of Shrubb's legs, the Marathon race between the Englishman and Tom Longboat, which was scheduled to take place at Madison Square Garden tonight, has been postponed until February 5.

Shrubb injured his leg while on a practice jaunt at his training grounds near Montclair, and the toes of his left foot were so badly swollen when he returned to his quarters that he was unable to wear a shoe. While it is regrettable that the race had to be postponed, the delay will increase the interest in the race.

RIVERSIDE ACADEMY TO HAVE CRACK NINE

Gainesville, Ga., January 25.—(Special.) Riverside Military Academy will be well represented on the baseball field this year, and if prospects count for anything, a pennant-winning prep. team is a high probability. The team will not only play all of the prep. school teams of the state, but will also journey up into North and South Carolina. On this trip are games with Clemson, Furman, Wofford and Davidson. Clemson plays Riverside in Gainesville on April 14. It is probable that Mercer will play Riverside when she goes up into North Carolina for a two weeks' trip. This game has not been definitely settled as yet. A game will likely be played with the state university at Athens on March 13, if the weather permits. A practice game with Georgia Tech has been asked for, and the chances are favorable for such a game.

Frank Anderson, for three years the crack pitcher of the University of Georgia team, will coach the cadets, and if he turns out a team such as he has in the past at R. E. Lee and Gordon, why Riverside's chances are exceedingly good. All of the academy and town are enthusiastic over the prospects, and with the excellent showing made by the football team last fall, it is certain that the basebal season will be a successful one.

Those who are showing up well are Brooks, Ginn, Cox, Berryman, Logan, Pearce and Rawlins.

HENN AND PRESSEY HAVE SIGNED 1909 CONTRACTS

Two more contracts were received by Manager Billy Smith, of the local baseball team, yesterday. They were from Jake Henn and Walter Pressey.

Henn is an outfielder, secured from Danville, in the Virginia League, last year. He was high in fielding and hit for .290. Pressey is a pitcher, who is said to be the goods. He was with Kewanee, Ill., last year.

Just half of the contracts have been received. Sixteen in all have been mailed in and there are sixteen more to come.

BOOKMAKERS SENTENCED.

Test Case Made of Anti-Racing Law in New Orleans.

New Orleans, January 25.—Placide Frigerie and R. M. Sheffield, who were charged with operating a betting book, as a result of the test made of the so-called Locke anti-racing law, at the City Park track, New Orleans, several weeks ago, were today sentenced to serve seven months in the parish prison by Judge Chretion, in the criminal district court. Each man was fined $160.

A motion for a new trial was overruled. An appeal will be made to the supreme court.

BRONSON CHALLENGES ALL LIGHTWEIGHT MEN

Champion of the Middle West Is on Tour of the Southern States.

Ray Bronson, of Indianapolis, the champion lightweight prize fighter of the middle west, arrived in Atlanta yesterday morning, looking in the best of condition. Bronson is on a tour of the south, looking over the lightweights in this section of the country with a view of taking on any lightweight who is willing to fight for any size purse and for any number of rounds.

Bronson has fought over forty ring battles in his career and is yet to be defeated. He is among the top-notchers in the lightweight class, and this statement can be borne out by the fact that he is booked to fight Abe Attell, the present title holder, at Dayton, Ohio, on February 12, for the title.

Bronson is in the best of shape. He spoke highly of Atlanta yesterday. He said: "This sure is a swell town. I thought I would only stay here a few days, but I believe I will stay at least a month. The streets remind me of some of the bigger cities up north, and pretty girls—well, I think you have got to hand it to this town when it comes to that, and weather—why, we have several feet of snow on the ground in the west now."

DUEL FRADY ARRESTED FOR AN ALLEGED THEFT

Duel Frady, 26 years of age, a mill operative and a resident of Laurens, S. C., was arrested early last night at the Elizabeth mills by Detectives Dorsett and Harper, on a warrant sworn out in the South Carolina town.

Frady says he is wanted for the theft of a gold watch from a young lady stenographer in the solicitor's office at Laurens. He says he appeared at preliminary trial, and was bound over under $300 bond on the charge. He said he came to Atlanta early in December, intending to return and face trial.

Frady states that he will go back to South Carolina without requisition papers. He was to have started to work with the Elizabeth mills yesterday morning, so he declares. He had recently sent for his wife to join him here.

JIMMY BARRETT MAY BECOME A CARDINAL

St. Louis, January 25.—(Special.) Manager Roger Bresnahan, of the St. Louis Cardinals, has offered Jimmy Barrett, the former star on the Detroit Tigers, a chance to show if he is still of big league caliber, and while Barrett has not accepted the position offered him, it is thought that he will.

Barrett's lame knee, which was hurt four years ago in Detroit while attempting to catch a line drive from Lajoie's bat, has mended now, and in his handball work at the Detroit Athletic Club he is going over the floor in remarkable style, showing that he has regained the speed which once made him famous.

If Barrett is in the best of condition, which seems to be the likelihood, then he will fill up a gap in the Cardinal outfield that needs it badly, and he will cut a pace that will make the other outfielders keep on the jump to keep ahead of him.

SANTA ANITA.

Los Angeles, Cal., January 25.—A very ordinary card was run off at Santa Anita Park today. Orcagna, in the first, was the only successful favorite. Sam Webb, at 30 to 1, won the three-furlong race, defeating Phosphorus by a head.

Results:

FIRST RACE—Six furlongs, selling: Orcagna, 105 (Yorke), 11 to 5, won; Galves, 107 (Butwell), 7 to 2, second; Antigo, 108 (Archibald), 5 to 2, third. Time, 1:15 1-5. Denigre, Vivant, Cardona, Henry of Shennamere, George Swain, Translucent, and Town Topics, ran.

SECOND RACE—Two-year-olds, three furlongs, selling: Sam Webb, 110 (Brook), 30 to 1, won; Phosphorus, 110 (Shilling), 7 to 10, second; Mrs. Frank Hogan, 102 (McGee), 25 to 1, third. Time, :37. Siloe, J. M. Stokes, Silvia, Fir, Lazvrem, Charles J. Harvey and Gregora, ran.

THIRD RACE—One mile, selling: Snowball, 97 (Sumter), 6 to 1, won; Proper, 114 (Butwell), 4 to 5, second; Miss Officious, 97 (Page), 12 to 1, third. Time, 1:41 1-5. Rubric, Varieties and Woolwinder, ran.

FOURTH RACE—Seven furlongs: Lasata, 107 (Cullen), 6 to 1, won; Reformation, 110 (Archibald), 7 to 10, second; Ybor, 108 (Page), 6 to 1 third. Time 1:28 2-5. Furnace Garland, Steel, Yankee Tourist, Hickey, Dailey and Glenart, ran.

FIFTH RACE—Mile an an eighth, selling: J. C. Clem, 104 (McGee), 5 to 1, won; Earl Rogers, 107 (E. Dugan), 9 to 1, second; Joe Coyne, 110 (Powers), 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:56 4-5. Round and Round, Lady Kitty and Vesme, also ran.

SIXTH RACE—Six and a half furlongs, selling: Norfolk, 107 (Shilling), 8 to 5, won; Catherine F., 99 (E. Clark), 12 to 1, second; Voorhees, 107 (Archibald), even, third. Time, 1:22. Work and Play, Haensel, Arragon, Vanen and Gossiper II, ran.

He Needs the Money.

"He is an all round good fellow."

"Oh, that's the reason."

"The reason for what?"

"The reason his wife doesn't dress better."

S.S.S. PURELY VEGETABLE

It is a generally recognized truth that medicines made from vegetable ingredients are a great deal better adapted to the delicate human system, and safer in every way, than those composed of strong mineral mixtures and compounds. Mercury, potash, arsenic, etc., which are used in the manufacture of most blood medicines, are too violent in their action, and frequently derange the system by disturbing the stomach and digestion, affecting the bowels, and when used for a prolonged period often cause Rheumatism. S. S. S. is the only blood medicine guaranteed absolutely and purely vegetable. It is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, selected for their purifying and healing qualities. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, and all other blood diseases, because it cleanses and purifies the blood, and at the same time builds up the entire system by its fine vegetable tonic effects. S. S. S. may be taken by young and old with absolute safety, and with the assurance that it will cure the diseases and disorders due to an impure and poisoned blood supply, even reaching down and removing hereditary taints. WITH GREAT FORTUNE AND BEAUTIFUL BRIDE

Sidney C. Love Retires From Business—His Bride Most Beautiful Woman.

Chicago, January 25.—Sidney C. Love, of New York and Chicago, having amassed during a brief but brilliant career, a fortune, said to be closer to two million than one, and having married a Chicago society girl, pronounced by Sir Philip Burne-Jones, the artist, to be the most beautiful woman in the world, quietly retired from business today.

Mr. Love had contemplated the move for some months, but so quietly were the details worked out today, it was done in four hours by the strenuous use of direct telegraph wires, that the announcement that Sidney C. Love & Co. had abandoned a business formerly rated at $25,000,000 a year, startled the local financial district.

Mr. and Mrs. Love, the latter formerly Miss Marjorie Burns, of Chicago, and said to be very wealthy in her own right, will leave soon for a tour of Europe, during which there will be no business cares to haunt their steps. Mr. Love is 36 years of age. He began his business career as a clerk fifteen years ago and entered the brokerage business at the time the Moores began their successful campaign to secure the Rock Island road.

Mr. Love's associates in business were Frederick Swift, of New York, and Frederick C. Aldrich, of Chicago.

Gold Medals for Wrights.

Washington, January 25.—Gold medals, with suitable emblems are to be awarded to Orville and Wilbur Wright by congress, in recognition and appreciation of their great services in the advancement of aerial navigation and for their ability, courage and success in navigating the air, if the house of representatives approves a resolution adopted by the senate today. Senator Foraker, of Ohio, introduced this resolution, which instructs the secretary of war to carry out its purpose, and without debate the measure was adopted by the senate.

PULPIT AT ST. LOUIS FILLED BY IMPOSTER

Members of Congregational Church Were Fooled for Four Months.

St. Louis, January 25.—That a young man, who for four months preached from the pulpit of the Congregational church in Greenwood, a suburb of this city, was an imposter, using the name of a Chicago clergyman, was the allegation made in a letter received today from the Moody Bible institute, Chicago, by Rev. Herman Swartz, pastor of the Webster Grove Congregational church.

The "clergyman" called himself "Rev. Ivan M. Gray," and just before leaving Greenwood he paid several accounts with bank checks drawn for greater amounts that the bills called for. In this way he received about $100 in change. The checks were returned as worthless by a suburban bank. As the man said that he was a graduate of the Moody Bible institute, inquiry was made there.

The answer states that Mr. Gray is pastor of a Chicago church, and has never been in St. Louis. He was robbed, according to the letter, by a young convert, who he took into his home, and it is believed here that the man who passed the checks in Greenwood was the same individual who robbed Mr. Gray.

F. E. CALLAWAY, SPECIAL MASTER in the Seaboard Air Line litigation, yesterday submitted to the clerk of the United States court a report touching a claim against the receivers, made by the Crocker-Wheeler Company, of Jacksonville, for work done for the Seaboard Air Line since it went into the hands of the receivers. The amount due on the claim aggregates $600. The receivers admit the correctness of the claim, asserting that the work done was essential to the operations of the Seaboard. Special Master Callaway designates a day for hearing any objections that may be lodged to the award of the amount claimed by the Jacksonville parties.

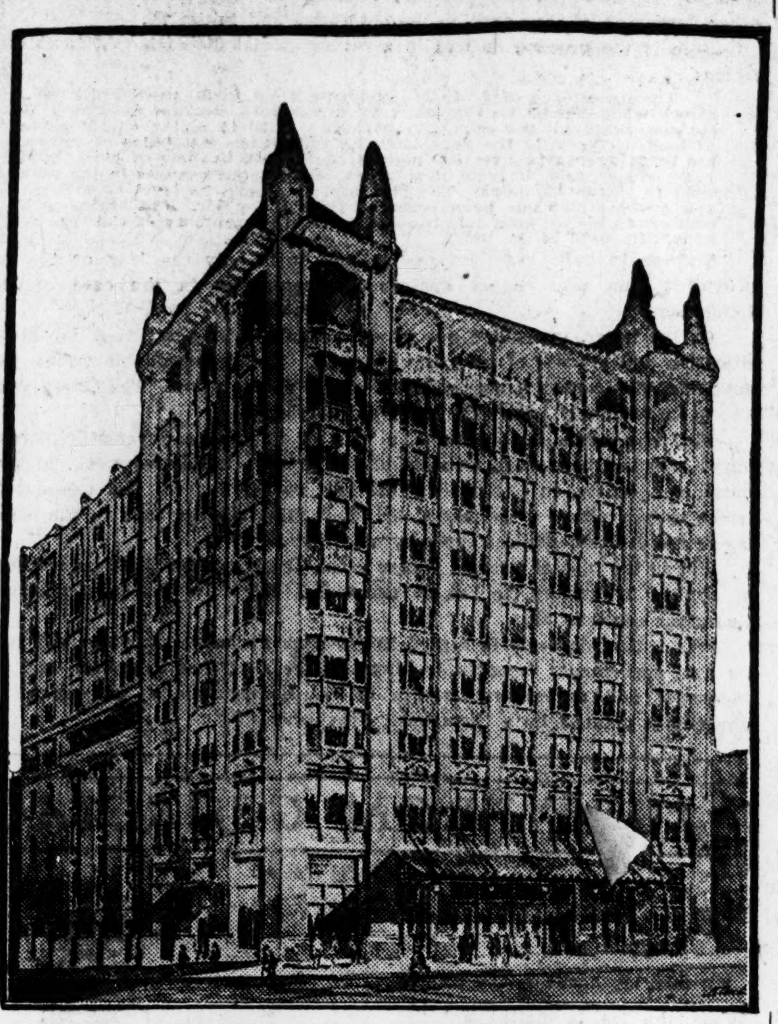
CONTRACT FOR ERECTION OF NEW THEATER CLOSED



New Theater and Office Building Which Will Be Erected at Corner of North Forsyth and Luckie Streets.

A. P. Stevens, Contractor, Will Start Work at Once. Building Will Be Erected on North Forsyth at Cost of $225,000.

Edwin P. Ansley, representing the Realty Trust Company, on yesterday closed a contract for the erection of the theater and office building which is to be erected by this company at the corner of North Forsyth and Luckie streets, at a cost of $225,000. The contractor for Atlanta's newest office building and the theater is H. L. Stevens. The architect is A. Ten Eyck Brown.

The actual work of construction will be undertaken at once, and it will be completed as soon as possible, the contract of the company calling for the completion of the theater in time for its opening at the beginning of the theatrical season this fall.

This building, the front of which is to be an office building and the rear a theater, will be eight stories high, topped with a roof garden for summer entertainment.

The building is to be constructed of reinforced concrete, with the exterior or deep-purple vitrified brick, trimmed in terra cotta of limestone color.

The office building is to be extremely well-lighted and well-ventilated.

The theater is to be among the few purely fire-proof structures in the south, and is to be built with all of the conveniences and improvements known to theatrical construction. One beauty of this playhouse will be the absence of posts, the gallery and balcony being supported by trusses.

The county convicts have already begun the work of raising the grade of Forsyth street, from Luckie to Carnegie way, and will practically change the topography of this street between these points. This is the first of the proposed buildings to be erected on Forsyth street.

WOULD TAKE MILLIONS TO ENFORCE PROHI LAW

Arguments Against Bill Made Before Committee of Carolina Legislature.

Columbia, S. C., January 25.—(Special.)—Tonight, before the house dispensary committee, arguments were made against the passage of a statewide prohibition bill.

John Marshall, of Charleston, a member of the county board, held that the law would not only entail an enormous loss to Charleston financially, but he did not believe that the law could be enforced. The people of Charleston, especially the Germans, wanted their beverage, and he believed that there was a growing sentiment in favor of the dispensary law. Mr. Marshall said that it would require a levy of about ten million dollars to enforce the law and meet expenses in Charleston.

Mayor Reamer, of Columbia, also talked against the passage of the bill. He showed the condition of the city finances, and said that it affected Columbia seriously. He believed in prohibition, but did not think it could be enforced.

The committee will make a report on the prohibition bill within a few days.

POSTAL BANK MEASURE OPPOSED BY HEYBURN

Declares It an Attempt to Establish European System in America.

Washington, January 25.—Senator Heyburn, of Idaho, today spoke at length in the senate in opposition to the postal savings bank bill. He declared that it was merely an attempt to establish a system in the United States, applicable only to conditions in such countries as Germany, France and England. It was, he said, a plan for taking money from the poor to lend it to the rich, through the instrumentality of the national banks.

Senator Carter replied to Mr. Heyburn. He said he would urge the consideration of the postal savings bank bill at every opportunity, until it is disposed of. He claimed that Mr. Heyburn's opposition was not directed to practical difficulties.

In committee of the whole the senate adopted the committee amendments, limiting to $500 the amount that one depositor may have to his credit, under the postal savings bill, and fixing the interest rate at 2 per cent, with the understanding that this amendment would be subject to further change by the senate.

Senator Cummins laid before the senate his amendment, providing that postal savings funds may be deposited in any national, state or territorial bank under certain restrictions, and fixing the rate of interest to be paid at 4 1-4 per cent, on which he will speak at some future time.

Taft Gives $25.

Augusta, Ga., January 25.—Rev. Daniel McHorton, colored, president of the Shiloh Orphanage, an institution for the colored orphans of Augusta, received a very pleasant note and a check for $25 from President-Elect Taft. Last week Mr. Taft and Mr. Landon A. Thomas visited the orphanage, and Mr. Taft was very much pleased with the institution, and, seeing that it was in need of funds, added his subscription. In his note he said: "I hope you can make the check useful in the good work you are doing. We are exceedingly interested in your institution, and I hope you will live long to maintain it."

Sea Salt.

"Now, Peters," said the teacher, "what is it makes the water of the sea so salty?"

"Salt," said Peters.

"Next," said the teacher. "What is it makes the water of the sea so salty?"

"The salty quality of the sea water," answered "Next," "is due to the admixture of a sufficient quantity of chloride of sodium to impart to the aqueous fluid with which it commingles a saline flavor, which is readily recognized by the organs of taste!"

"Right, Next," said the teacher. "Go up one!"

ELDERS WILL PASS ON BISHOP SMITH

Meeting Will Be Held in Americus Wednesday.

Serious Charges Made Against Bishop of A. M. E. Church, but He Declares They Result From Spite.

At a meeting of the presiding elders of the Georgia diocesan district of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, to be held in Americus tomorrow, it is believed that action will be taken relative to the charges which have been made against Bishop Charles Spencer Smith.

Rev. John Harmon, formerly presiding elder of the Atlanta district, one of the men said to have been practically put out of the church by Smith, is now editor of The American Citizen, a negro paper, published in Atlanta. In his last issue, Harmon, who has preferred charges against Smith, devotes practically a whole page to criticisms of Smith. He charges that while in Africa Smith was suspended, and that the church has always regretted that he was not removed from the bishopric when tried by the general conference in Chicago in 1904. He claims that Smith is trying to wipe out the industrial feature at Morris Brown College, and charges that the members of the church in Georgia are being mulcted by the bishop.

Bishop Smith stated to a representative of The Constitution that Harmon's charges are the result of the spite and that he has no standing in the church.

The whole matter will be settled at the council of bishops in Jacksonville, on February 4.

Cooler and Fair Is Promise Made By Weather Man

Forecaster Says This January Is Not So Warm as Some of Recent Years.

Forecast for today: Cooler today and fair. The low pressure area on the Rocky mountain region has, in part, given away, and the barometer is now high in the middle west, where the weather is clear and somewhat cooler. Lowest temperature reported is at Lander, Wyoming, 4 degrees below. Generally cloudy prevails in the east and south. Throughout the cotton belt the conditions are very warm, especially in the central portion. There has been practically no precipitation within the past twenty-four hours, except on the New England coast and North Pacific coast.

OUT TO GRANT PARK TO FEED THE MONKEYS!

SUMMERTIME FOR SURE.

Here is some dope regarding this warm spell, previous warm spells, and what is likely to happen:

The present warm weather began on the 19th of the month, and has been in continuous performance ever since. All told, the temperature has registered 84 degrees above the normal. The normal temperature is 42 degrees. On the 19th it was 6 degrees above; 20th, 7 above; 21st, 12 above; 22nd, 16 above; 23rd, 21 degrees above; 24th, 22 above. This will make the mean temperature for the month 48 degrees. Previous January records are as follows: January, 1880, 54.4 degrees mean temperature; 1890, 51 degrees; 1907, 52 degrees. This shows that year before last the mean or normal temperature was over 4 degrees above what it is this month. The highest daily mean temperature on record is 64 degrees. The maximum temperature occurred on January 12, 1890, 75 degrees. The highest for this month is 72 degrees. Eight of the Januarys show a record of over 70 degrees.

From this information it can be gathered this, the present January, is not any warmer, if as warm, as some that have occurred in the past.

The temperature: Yesterday it went up to 72 degrees.

"Penrosesylvania."

(From The Hartford Courant.)

It was named Pennsylvania in honest Friend William's day, and his statue still looks down from the hugest monument of graft in the state's chief city—the "corrupt and contented" city. Penrosesylvania seems to be the descriptive and appropriate name now, as Quaysylvania was a few years ago—in the time of Oles Pensose's political creator and tutor. The new general assembly at Harrisburg is doing the United States the ill-service of reelecting Mr. Penrose to the senate. He's a Harvard man, clever, convivial, equal to the making of a bright speech on occasion; in his political methods and morals he's a diligent understudy of the master (now dead) who trained him, and who on his good side was much the more likeable, as he was much the more able, man of the two.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

(From The New York Press.)

The thing a woman suspects about a strange man in a car who won't look at her is that he is trying to.

A girl can cry over how, if there were any sleigh-riding, she couldn't go because she hasn't the right style of furs.

Generally a woman's reason for doing a thing is she hasn't any, and it turns out much better than with a man, who has.

The average man seems to be able to get more fun out of going to a funeral with his friends than to the theater with his family.

Woman Makes Serious Charges Against Bailiff

Mrs. J. A. Whittemore Says M. F. Barnes Struck Her With Handcuffs.

M. F. Barnes, a bailiff in Justice Landrum's court, was yesterday charged in a warrant sworn out by Mrs. J. A. Whittemore, of 98 Central place, with assault and battery. The accusation was taken out in the city court.

Barnes has sworn out a warrant against Mrs. Whittemore in a justice court, charging her with resisting an officer.

According to Mrs. Whittemore, Barnes came to her home on Friday to serve a lien of $3, taken out by a negro servant. The lien was against Mrs. O. C. Evanson, daughter of Mrs. Whittemore. The lady states the bailiff was insolent from the start. Barnes went into her daughter's room, and proceeded to take a trunk. Mrs. Whittemore heard her daughter ask the privilege of taking some baby clothes out of it. She then went into the daughter's room and insisted upon being allowed the privilege of having the clothes. Barnes is said to have slapped her in the face and thrown her across the room. She claims she was struck with handcuffs. Barnes denies all of this.

Mrs. Whittemore is the wife of a traveling salesman, who is in the employ of A. K. Hawkes, the optician.

UNITED MINE WORKERS IN A BITTER CONTEST

John Walker Is Trying to Defeat Lewis for the Presidency.

Indianapolis, Ind., aJnuary 25.—The convention of the United Mine Workers of America, in session in this city, is in the attitude of waiting, though restlessly, for an outbreak of internal strife, rather than for a contest with employers.

The factor upon which the miners' organization is intent is the dispute within its own ranks between the present national administration and its opponents, headed by John Walker, of Illinois, who is Mr. Lewis' rival for the presidency. The ballots cast last December are now being counted on voting machines, and the result may be announced either tomorrow or Wednesday.

The factional controversy is a bitter one, and for weeks charges of improper influence in the election have emanated from supporters of both parties. It is generally rumored among the delegates to the convention, who number 1,360, that if the result of the count of ballots does not give a very large majority to Mr. Lewis, Mr. Walker's friends will contest the election, and will attempt to have a sufficient number of votes thrown out to put the final decision in the contest for office before the convention itself.

January Mercerian Is Out.

Macon, Ga., January 25.—(Special.)—The January issue of the Mercerian, the college monthly at Mercer University, is out today. Editor Joel Brown and Business Manager John Henderson have worked into this issue some excellent material. The January number has all the characteristics of a good college magazine, and friends of the young men in other institutions must take notice.

Toole and Hazlehurst.

Macon, Ga., January 25.—(Special.)—Glenn G. Toole and R. C. Hazlehurst have been appointed representatives of the Macon chamber of commerce at the National Tariff Association meetings in Indianapolis next month. It is probable that there will be some representatives of the city appointed, as this is to be one of the most important conventions in the country for the month.

The very weather to create a run on the river banks.

Sunday last was the warmest day we have had this summer.

Think of what a windfall this weather is to the ice trust!

If you want a miniature blizzard, get out the ice cream freezer.

Still, how can either Japan or Hobson get peace by howling for it?

The secret service is not making Oklahoma's blind senator see trouble.

Cheer up! Senator Tillman has buckled the earthquake belt around him.

Cuba is now so well-balanced, she may be able to stand a little prosperity.

Japan still cries for peace, but not loud enough to drown the Hobsonian war cry.

Colonel Watterson is not opposed to 'possum, but the 'simmon beer is too thin.

Tennessee has plenty of homemade ice, and it's glorious julep weather!

Taft won't stay captured, but there is no doubt that the south has a string to him.

When Taft reaches the Isthmus it will be up to the Gatun Dam to rise to the occasion.

It would be the irony of Fate if Judge Taft should ever be asked to flay a 'possum trust.

January is keeping his resolution to be good, but he has a whole week in which to fall from grace.

An exchange says Secretary Root "is a self-made man." But didn't Muldoon have to make him over?

No faith in that earthquake story from Ohio. Perhaps the state was shocked at the way Foraker went on.

It took two New York reporters to give grand opera a knock-out blow, and doubtless $10 notes figured in the fines.

We shall soon have an airship from which it will be possible to drop a bomb big enough to explode the North Pole theory.

Charlotte Perkins Gilman is not complimentary to the sex when she says that woman is only "a part of speech." She should amend it by inserting the word "vocal" before "part."

THE WILDFIRE SWEEP OF PHILANTHROPY.

Yesterday's developments and the impending developments of today in the expansion campaign of the Associated Charities are dramatic evidence that human kindness, backed by the instinct of upbuilding, is the most infectious quality under the sun.

The Mystic Shriners of Atlanta are the latest recruits to its beneficent influence. Inspired by the appeal of The Constitution and the instant response of the Order of Old-Fashioned Women, this unique and potential order has offered to become co-sponsor with the former organization in the crusade for 1,000 new members to the Associated Charities.

This decision was reached at a meeting held yesterday, details of which will be found elsewhere in The Constitution. It is not strange that these representative Atlantans should have been impressed by the sustained enthusiasm of the movement. They have long been cognizant of the excellence of the work of the Charities, the obstacles with which it is constantly contending.

And the Shriners have themselves been foremost in good and substantial and constructive philanthropy in Atlanta, the variety that does not exact applause and that is the more effectual for the fact of its unobtrusiveness. Their enlistment in the crusade should mean a speedy and successful climax.

That is but one phase of the spontaneous events of yesterday. The example of the Order of Old-Fashioned Women has appealed irresistibly to the womanhood of all Atlanta. Women in and outside of club organizations, women of wealth and in life's humblest walks, are demanding the privilege of cooperation in a cause that peculiarly touches the sympathies of the feminine heart.

As the result of developments detailed elsewhere, Mrs. Robert F. Maddox, wife of Atlanta's new mayor, has agreed to throw open her home this afternoon for a woman's meeting which shall converge into one effectual channel the efforts of the wives and the mothers, the daughters and the sweethearts of Atlanta.

At one bound, the movement has become community-wide. It has beaten down the barriers of class and creed. Appealing to the sublime impulse to redeem, to relieve and regenerate the flotsam and jetsam of our own human frailty, it is rallying to its support the finest and the most conservative forces in Atlanta.

No Atlantan is too obscure to wear the badge of distinction of aiding in a campaign that profits the community by obliterating destitution.

NOW FOR THE IMPROVEMENT OF PIEDMONT.

The action of city council yesterday in affirming the resolution devoting Piedmont Park to specific and exclusive park purposes, permanently removes a long-drawn-out issue from the realm of controversy and paves the way for the gradual creation of one of the most notable public parks and playgrounds in the southern states.

Divergent views for or against the advisability of this course have been justly and exhaustively threshed to conclusion.

It is now incumbent upon the park commission to inaugurate, without delay, plans that shall look to the systematic, unremitting and comprehensive improvement of a plot of land rich in potentialities of beauty and usefulness.

It is not to be expected, of course, that a revolution can be compassed overnight. Years of faithful and intelligent endeavor, much money gradually and judiciously invested, will be indispensable to bring the park to that stage of utilitarian attractiveness promised by its natural advantages.

But a beginning can and must be made at once. Each step taken, each dollar spent, should be with a view to lasting and ideal results.

The same method and care that has evolved the 145 acres of Grant Park into an open-air sanatorium and recreation ground on the south side, should be duplicated to the end of working the same ultimate transformation at Piedmont, on the north side. The 189 acres of slopes, and green and forested woodland, offer opportunities to the landscape artist commensurate with those of Grant Park.

Let the commission immediately set about instituting adequate improvement measures at Piedmont.

Then let the two parks be connected by a spacious, air-line boulevard. The consummation of these plans will mean that some day Atlanta will enjoy two of the most magnificent parks and the most attractive boulevard in the southern half of the United States.

Public policy dictates that movements toward this end shall be undertaken at the earliest possible moment.

THE JINGO'S DOUGH FACE.

Congress continues to stand aghast at the war bogie.

Familiarity has failed to breed contempt of this papier mache fright behind which the jingoes are laughing at their own premeditated agitation.

"War with Japan!" It is the jingo's "dough face."

While children may tremble in momentary fright, grown men laugh.

With hair on end congress votes more millions for the navy—just what the jingoes and those who are making use of them are seeking to accomplish.

In this good year of peace and prospects for its more firm and substantial cementing against chip and shoulder episodes, we must spend $135,000,000—a record-breaking sum—for armor plate and guns.

And why? In answer some one points dramatically to Japan.

We vote the money and build the ships and then settle down to a season of calm forgetfulness of it all until another naval bill comes up for action.

Then the same old bogie is taken momentarily from the seclusion of his backstairs closet while the naval enthusiasts—perhaps also the shipbuilders—dance around him as the Alaskan Indians do before their totem pole.

The American people must foot the bills and they, too, must be frightened if possible, into an attitude of silence, if not submission.

In the meanwhile official and industrial Japan devotes herself to the arts of peace and, we have it from Prime Minister Marquis Katsura, seeks to develop herself into a strong commercial nation.

Japan, likewise, has her jingoes; no country is without them. There is always a certain element in every nation that delights in war and the products of it. Nothing would give them greater satisfaction than to embroil their own country in violent and bloody conflict. Sometimes the hope of gain may be at the bottom of it; at others, it borders on mental irresponsibility.

Japan has given every evidence of her friendship to the United States. She has, it seems, in good faith, sought to check the tide of Japanese emigration to our Pacific shores; figures would indicate the effort has been attended with good results.

The Root-Takahira convention either means something or it is a deception and a fraud.

We cannot conceive that an agreement to submit any possible disputes to peaceable arbitration, signed by the authorized representatives of the two countries, was conceived in deceit and executed with dishonest reservation.

Yet that is the doctrine which the insidious jingoes would quietly disseminate.

"We must have force and plenty of it." That is their view, their one idea, and they would stop at nothing in fixing and giving it tangible shape.

But we are not going to fight Japan, nor is Japan going to fight us; at least, not with men and arms behind turrets and in submarines.

Our chief contest with Japan is to be a peaceful one—a competition in the commerce of the east, where we must struggle to maintain our share against the industry and the energy of a powerful and growing commercial people.

In this contest we need not the force of a gigantic navy, but the power of industrial effort.

A dozen battleships would not sell a bale of cotton goods or find a market for a single American machine.

It is in cultivation of the commercial, and not the war, spirit that congressional effort is most needed.

TURNING GEORGIA CLODS INTO GOLD.

J. A. J. Henderson, "Jim" Henderson, of Ocilla, is a Georgian who has displayed the acme of common sense in solving the problem that used to wrinkle the brows of the ancient alchemists. He has found the secret of turning clods into gold, Georgia clods at that. His is no jealously guarded, exclusive patent, and the formula is open to several thousand other Georgians, if they develop the enterprise and initiative.

Here is the process, as told in a recent special dispatch to The Constitution:

> The experience of J. A. J. Henderson on a farm, near Ocilla, Ga., shows what can be accomplished by farming in Georgia according to modern, thorough and scientific methods. With 15 mules, on 504 acres of land, he grew in the year 1908 the following: 431 bales of cotton, the bales averaging over 500 pounds each; 3,500 bushels of corn, 2,000 bales of hay, 2,000 bushels of potatoes, and enough peanuts in the corn field to fatten 100 hogs. The big farm is almost as level as a floor, and every stump has been removed from it by Mr. Henderson, who employs in his farming operations the modern machinery of the type so generallly used in the west.

Success in bulk looks impressive, but it is only the lazy or the improvident man who cannot analyze its ingredients in the case of Jim Henderson.

Of the latter, two stand out in unmistakable clearness; they are diversification and the use of scientific methods. Rather formidable words, perhaps, but they convey a gospel that is by no means novel. The Constitution has been resolutely preaching it for thirty years.

Mr. Henderson is, of course, a man of unusual and versatile personality. He has been conspicuously identified with legislative work, in both house and senate, in Georgia for the last twenty years. His especial interest in agriculture is evidenced by the leading role he took in the assuring of the eleventh district agricultural college.

But in the use of Georgia "horse sense," economy and business methods, as applied to farming, he has no monopoly. What he has done a host of Georgians could do also.

When they do begin to regard things from his angle the state will raise its own sustenance; low-priced cotton will be a menace forgotten, and the industrial and agricultural wealth of the commonwealth will reach the dimensions planned by a beneficent Providence.

I'll take my honey to the picnic!

Oh, the gals will come

Will be lovin' of me best!

When the larks are lively an' skimmin' of the loam
I'll take my honey to the picnic!
Then's when my heart will be findin' of its home—
I'll take my honey to the picnic!

Oh, the gals will come
From the East an' West,
But my heart knows the honey
That's a-lovin' of me best!

When the stars shine down where the violets wait
I'll take my honey from the picnic!
An' a long, sweet kiss at the goodbye Gate
When I take my honey from the

Oh, the gals will come
From the East an' West,
But my honey is the honey
That's the sweetest an' the best!

"HELP US REMAKE MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN"

--Harry L. Schlesinger

Business Interests of Atlanta, Moral and Mental Progress of the Community Bound Up in Campaign of Associated Charities, Thinks Prominent Man of Affairs—As Mystic Shriner and Citizen, He Calls for Volunteers Among Business Men.

Editor Constitution: Your Associated Charities editorials of yesterday and today and the ready response of the Order of Old-Fashioned Women have struck me straight between the eyes.

I was present this morning at the meeting at which the Mystic Shriners discussed the crusade, and those present agreed unanimously and enthusiastically to back up the hunt for 1,000 new members with all the aggressiveness at their command.

I am familiar with the work of this institution, both in my personal capacity as a member and citizen and as a Mystic Shriner. The philanthropic work of the latter order has brought me into intimate contact with the practical constructive theories of these people, and I tell you they are quietly and without parade doing work in this community that cannot be duplicated by any other institution in our midst.

They are making over men and women, beginning with the soul and the mind, and working out to the very clothing in which charity has clothed their nakedness.

They are turning beggary, deliberate and professional, into thrift and productiveness. They are converting hopeless dependence into buoyant self-support. They are changing what once was a hopeless source of drain upon the purse and the compassion of the community into additions to its revenues, recruits to its citizenship of men and women.

They are saving little children, within them the germs of self-reliant manhood and womanhood, from the danger of growing up into confirmed mendicants, liars, hypocrites. They are giving the direction of sanity and usefulness to these lives at that critical point where the pathway of ruin crosses the high-road of success.

They are magically transmuting spawn for the jail and the house of prostitution into the promise of clean-souled and upright American citizenship.

They are discharging these functions for no one class or creed or station. Evil and ill-fortune and their disastrous consequences to society do not stop to ask the victim if he is Jew or Christian, pagan or Methodist. They are nondenominational, democratic. The money of the rich man and the obscurity of the poorest citizen cannot buy him immunity from the direct and the indirect effect of poverty, vice and crime; the most chronically selfish man in the community cannot in conscience evade his share in the responsibility for correcting these destructive influences.

I do not underestimate the work of the churches and of the other philanthropic institutions of Atlanta. No one is better acquainted with their excellence and their militant generosity than myself. But I am quite sure the Associated Charities is filling a niche, and a very large one, that is tenable by no other social activity of our day.

These people are undertaking a function which no legislation, however wisely penetrative, can discharge. Yet it is a function more intimately bound up in the business and moral interests of the community than nine-tenths of the laws that clutter our statute books.

The Order of Old-Fashioned Women patriotically recognize these salient facts. The Mystic Shriners join them in that recognition, and in the decision to grapple the situation of which they are the outcome.

We are asking the business men of Atlanta to enlist in a movement that it is positive will ultimately put dollars in their pockets, and make this city a happier, a more profitable place in which their children may live.

Five thousand, much less than one thousand, could, with the greatest ease, afford the $5 which is the price for placing their names upon a lasting roll of honor and of becoming identified in a movement so surely supported by the motives of common sense.

Confiding in the instincts which make men very little lower than the angels, no less than in those which rally round the strongholds of expediency, we say:

"Take heart from the example of the noble women of Atlanta. Come over and help us remake men and women and little children."

HARRY L. SCHLESINGER.
Atlanta, Ga., January 25, 1909.

TO "LIVE LIKE CHRIST" MAY MEAN CRUCIFIXION

So Says Letter to Constitution. Dr. John White Leaves for Cleveland.

Dr. John E. White, pastor of the Second Baptist church and author of the "Live Like Christ Movement" in Atlanta, through sermons preached for the last two Sundays on that subject, leaves on Thursday for Cleveland, Ohio, the birthplace of the movement, not with a view to studying it any further, but to be one of the speakers of the International Home Missions Publicity Campaign.

His subject there will be "The Backward People." From Cleveland Dr. White will go to Pittsburg, Pa., and Baltimore, where this same talk will be made. He will return to Atlanta and deliver it at the Central Presbyterian church on Washington street.

This is a meeting participated in by all of the missionary boards of all denominations in an effort to arouse the public on the importance of home missions.

Dr. White, in discussing the "Live Like Christ" movement, said: "Unless there comes a spontaneous movement in this direction from some of the church societies, I shall do nothing further along this line, but shall await developments. The name given the movement is somewhat misleading. It does not mean that those who follow it shall try to live in the twentieth century the life of the first, but are simply trying to live their lives, from day to day, just as Christ would have them live it. The movement has created widespread interest in Atlanta and there is a great deal of discussion about it all over the city."

Among the letters sent to The Constitution about it for publication is one which states that if the movement is inaugurated in Atlanta some of the followers are liable to be crucified or hanged. This letter, in full, is as follows:

> If the young people of the Second Baptist church who have declared their intention to "do for one month exactly as Christ did during His sojourn on earth" carry out their resolutions, some of them are apt to be crucified or hung, unless they are given the protection of the civil law.
>
> I know a man who had his throat cut, and who was almost killed on the streets of Cordele last spring for doing only some of the things that Christ did while He was on earth.
>
> If there are any people so curious as to want to know what this man did, I would be glad to tell them, but I guess there are some who will not care to know.
>
> Respectfully,
> J. R. BRANTLEY.

A Tool of the People.

(From The Douglas Enterprise.)

Governor-elect Brown is on the wing again, meeting with the people of the state and telling them in "a plain way" what he thinks the office of governor ought to be. He says the people need no governor, but an executive—a man in that office to see that the laws are carried out. He says that he will be the tool of the whole people, but will not allow them to use this tool to "smash the hearts and fortunes of others."

This is common-sense talk, and if Joe Brown will make half the governor, and we believe he will, that he says he will, then Georgia will not yet "go to the dogs."

The Black Sheep.

(From The Chicago Tribune.)

"What," asked the man who had returned to his native town after an absence of many years, "became of Ed Ferguson?"

"Ed? Oh, he's doin' fine. Got the best livery stable anywheres around here and runs the depot hack."

"Let's see, he had a younger brother, hadn't he?"

"Yes; Lem. He never amounted to much. Wrote poetry and painted pictures. I guess the family kind of disowned him. At least, he went away several years ago, and I dunno whatever became of him."

THOMAS PUT ON TRIAL FOR WRECKING FREIGHT

Man Is Charged With Cause of Disaster at Rome in October.

Rome, Ga., January 25.—(Special.)—The case of Sherman Thomas, who is charged with wrecking a north-bound freight train on the Southern railway early on the morning of October 20, was taken up this afternoon in Floyd superior court, Judge N. A. Morris presiding. A jury was obtained about 4:30 o'clock, and introduction of testimony on behalf of the state was begun.

Three witnesses were examined for the state this afternoon. They were P. Farris, conductor on the ill-fated train; E. S. Acree, fireman on the engine, and G. C. Baker, superintendent of the Rome Chemical Works, near which the wreck occurred. They testified as to the time the wreck occurred and the details incident thereto, but knew nothing in regard to the cause.

The state is represented by Judge Sam Maddox, of Dalton; Solicitor General John W. Bale and Judge G. A. H. Harris, of Rome. The defense by M. B. Eubanks, F. W. Copeland and Barry Wright. This case presents some peculiar features, and will be hard fought by both sides. The trial will probably consume all of the next two days.

(To Hamilton Douglas, Donald Bain and Dr. Joseph Jacobs.)

It's mighty good to rest us from
Each literary hobby,
And make a day in winter May
By celebratin' Bobby!
To climb his hills, and hear his rills
In old-time music flowing
And drink anew each drop o' dew
Upon his daisies glowing!

To slip away from our today
Of wonder and of worry,
To where, in meadows o' the May,
He whistled "Annie Laurie."
To meet him in some gabled inn
And pass the rare decanter,
Or in some ingle nook begin
A race with Tam o' Shanter!

O fresh and sweet as dews that greet
The kisses of the lily.
His every song, that thrills along
And warms the weather chilly.
They echo in the marble domes—
On heights of high endeavor,
And by the hearths of lowly homes
The singer sits forever.

And so, it's good to rest us from
Each literary hobby,
And make a day in winter May,
By celebratin' Bobby;
To climb his hill and o'er his rills
Hear winds in music blowing
And 'neath the blue to see the dew
Upon the daisies glowing!

No Whisky for U. S. Prisoners.

Washington, January 25.—The attorney general has issued a circular to United States marshals, warning them that under no circumstances must United States prisoners, while in their charge, or in charge of any of their deputies, be allowed to have intoxicants, except upon the advice of a physician. The circular threatens summary removal of any official so offending.

Anti-Corporation Bill Fails.

Washington, January 25.—The senate committee on the judiciary today voted to report adversely a bill requiring corporations engaged in interstate commerce to file with the commissioner of corporations statements setting forth their financial condition, contracts, and information concerning their organization and corporation proceedings. The bill was introduced by Senator Warner. It is believed by members of the committee to be unconstitutional.

ONLY HARD FREEZE CAN INJURE PEACH

Cold Spell Will Not Hurt the Crop.

State Entomologist Worsham Says Buds Have Not Yet Developed Sufficiently to Be Hurt.

"It would take a good, hard freeze at the present time to ruin the peach crop."—State Entomologist.

There have been rumors rife during the past few days by everyone in general and no one in particular that the peach crop was simply gone, and could not be recovered; that the delicious fruit was destroyed, and no peaches would be consumed this year, because this warm spell of weather would surely be followed by a cold spell, absolutely killing every bud, tree, and everything near to it.

State Entomologist Worsham does not think so. He states that if the present weather continues (note that word continues) the crop will be hurt. The buds, as far as he is able to ascertain, have not developed to that state where a cold spell would injure them. Of course, if warm weather continued, they would get to that state, and then a cold wave would hurt. It is very difficult to freeze the cell sap of the peach, for the cold has to get into the interior of the bud. As long as water is kept from the interior, there is no danger and the bud is safe.

Of course, a cold spell is greatly desired, in order to keep anything from happening. Ten days more of this weather would hurt, but who knows when a cold spell is going to touch this world?

FUNERAL OF DR. HEIDT AT 11 THIS MORNING

The funeral services of Dr. John W. Heidt will be conducted at St. Mark's Methodist church this morning at 11 o'clock. Bishop Warren A. Candler, assisted by Rev. Richard Wilkerson, of Augusta, and Dr. I. S. Hopkins, of Atlanta, will conduct the ceremony. The interment will occur at Westview cemetery.

Cadets from the Rhinehart Normal college, of Waleska, Ga., of which Dr. Heidt was president of the board of trustees for many years, will act as pallbearers.

The following gentlemen will act as the honorary pallbearers: Rev. W. F. Glenn, General Clement A. Evans, C. W. Motes, Asa G. Candler, E. R. DuBose, Clark Howell, Rev. S. R. Belk and Rev. J. W. Lee. Dr. Heidt's sons have arrived from their posts in the United States army to attend the funeral, and his two sisters, Mrs. J. S. Jordan and Mrs. Jack Shearouse, of Savannah, are also in the city.

ANNUAL MEETING TODAY OF STREET CAR COMPANY

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Georgia Railway and Electric Company will be held at the offices of the company, at the corner of Marietta and Fairlie streets, this morning at 11 o'clock, for the election of directors and other business.

The directors will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year.

At the morning meeting the stockholders will vote in favor of authorizing the issuance of $20,000,000 in bonds for the purpose of constructing new lines and refunding the present bond issue of $9,000,000. They will declare the regular annual dividend of 6 per cent, payable at the rate of 1½ per cent quarterly.

BANQUET OF "OLD GUARD" WILL BE HELD JAN. 28

Invitations have been sent out to the annual banquet of the Old Guard, which is to be held at the New Kimball on the night of January 28.

This organization, of which Associate Justice Lumpkin, of the supreme court of Georgia is president, and Captain Joseph F. Burke, whose name has been associated with military affairs for years past, is vice president, is composed of the former members of the Gate City Guard, from the time of their organization, January 19, 1857. The Old Guard has a membership of about eighty, and carries on its roll some of Atlanta's leading business and professional men.

Alleged Murderer Captured.

Macon, Ga., January 25.—(Special.)—Sheriff George Robertson was informed by message today from Savannah that Eddie Bell, known here as Chicken Bell, formerly a negro porter at the Lanier hotel, is detained by the police of Savannah. An officer was sent tonight to take charge of the negro and he will be brought here. He is held for the killing of a negro named Babe Adams on Middle street last Christmas two years ago.

WESTERN UNION LOSES ITS SUIT

No Franchise Under Federal Act of 1866.

Federal Court Denies Petition for Injunction — Case Will Be Carried to the Supreme Court.

In an opinion handed down by Judge Newman, of the United States court, yesterday, the Western Union Telegraph Company has [illegible] franchise under the act of the federal congress of July, 1866.

Some time ago the Western Union objected to the collection of a tax on its franchise in the state of Georgia, fixed by a board of arbitration, declaring that their franchise came by the national congress act and was not taxable in any amount, and asked the United States court for an injunction against the collection of the taxes on that franchise, the company agreeing, however, to pay the taxes on the tangible property within the state as it was fixed by the board.

Within the state the valuation of the franchise as fixed by the board was about $500,000, just one-half the amount Comptroller General Wright had assessed, while the valuation placed upon the tangible property was about $950,000.

In its refusal to pay taxes upon the franchise the Western Union company, through its attorneys, Dorsey, Brewster, Howell & Heyman, made the plea that the state of Georgia could not assess the franchise for taxation, declaring that that franchise came to the company by an act of congress in July, 1866, and for that reason, being a national creation, the franchise was not subject to taxation. It then asked that the collection of the franchise taxes be enjoined. To that bill for an injunction Attorney General Hart filed a demurrer on behalf of Comptroller General Wright and in the paper set up that to enjoin the action of the board of arbitrators would be to enjoin a court, as that board was a state court, its functions being judicial, and that such action was in violation of section 720 of the revised statutes of the United States.

In his opinion, Judge Newman said that "if the contention of the Western Union is not sustained it will render unnecessary the determination of the question as to whether the board of arbitrators, provided for under the statutes of the state of Georgia, is a court in such sense that its acts cannot be enjoined by this court." After quoting a paragraph in the board of arbitrators' findings, Judge Newman says that it (the board) apparently assumed that a part of the valuation of the franchise was derived and exercised under the act of congress of July, 1866. It was then emphatically asserted by Judge Newman, in his opinion, that that act did not give the Western Union a franchise, saying that repeated decisions of the supreme court show that the franchise under which the company operates in all the states of the United States is the franchise it derives by its charter from the state of New York.

The Western Union Telegraph Company has no federal franchise, declares Judge Newman in his opinion. That which it obtained by the act of congress of July, 1866, was permissive only, he says. A similar case brought by the Western Union in Massachusetts is then cited, sustaining Judge Newman's contention as was another going to the federal supreme court from the courts of Missouri. Even did the board of arbitrators believe, said Judge Newman, that part of the franchise came to the Western Union because of the congressional act of July, 1866, which was a mistake, that mistake should in no way whatever affect their findings and "doesn't authorize this court to interfere with their action."

The closing paragraph declares that the demurrer by Comptroller General Wright is sustained.

When advised of the opinion rendered by Judge Newman, Albert Howell, of the legal firm representing the Western Union, declared that the case would be carried to the supreme court of the United States.

"And in the meantime the collection of the franchise tax by the comptroller general will be held in abeyance," said Mr. Howell.

TWO RECEIVERS NAMED.

Involuntary Bankrupt Proceedings Against Two Concerns.

The Southern Brass Works, M. R. Berry, president and general manager, located on Hemphill avenue and the Southern railway, was yesterday placed in the hands of a receiver, T. D. Meador, of the Lowry National bank, being named by Judge Newman.

In the involuntary bankruptcy proceedings the movants were the Lowry National bank, the Carolina Portland Cement Company and E. P. McBurney. To the Lowry bank an indebtedness of $13,800, borrowed money, is shown, while the Carolina Portland Cement Company's claim is only $20.60. The McBurney obligation is set down at $153.99. The receiver's bond was placed at $5,000.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in the United States clerk's office yesterday against R. C. Campbell, a merchant located at Inman, a suburb of Atlanta, by Virgil Jones, attorney. The petitioning creditors are C. Lawrence, B. Whittaker, C. N. Campbell and others. Walter Hendrix was named as receiver.

Athens, Ga., January 25.—(Special.)—This morning, five miles from Athens, the automobile of Frank W. Bondurant, of Winder, turned turtle and went down under an eight-foot embankment, falling on Mr. Bondurant and his wife and child. In a miraculous way all three escaped with only a few bruises.

PLANS TO RAISE 1,000 MEMBERS

Prominent Shriners Will Aid in Movement.

Order of Old-Fashioned Women Losing No Time in Securing Needed Thousand Members for the Associated Charities—Meeting Thursday.

The Order of Old-Fashioned Women and a delegation from the Mystic Shrine of Atlanta met yesterday morning, in the parlors of the Aragon hotel, by call of the Old-Fashioned Women. The purpose of the meeting was to formulate plans for the work volunteered by the Old-Fashioned Women in securing for the Associated Charities an increased membership of 1,000, at $5 per annum.

Among those representing the two organizations at the meeting were Mrs. Robert Maddox, Mrs. Preston Arkwright, Mrs. Robert Foreman, Mrs. W. H. Kiser, Mrs. Julien Field, representing the Old-Fashioned Women, and V. H. Kriegshaber, Forrest Adair, J. R. Dickey, Joe Greenfield, J. Lee Barnes, Harry Schlesinger and Steve R. Johnston, of the Mystic Shrine.

Mr. Adair was made chairman of the meeting.

Thousand Members Needed.

As was fully set forth in The Constitution of Sunday, January 24, the Associated Charities, in order to carry on and broaden the scope of their work, need an increased membership of 1,000 members, there being 800 enrolled for this year.

The Order of Old-Fashioned Women volunteered to become sponsors of the call, and pledged themselves to secure the necessary membership.

They called the meeting Monday to formulate plans for immediate action, and have secured the cooperative influence of the Shriners in the undertaking.

At the meeting the wonderful work of the Associated Charities was discussed and the close relations existing between that organization and the charitable institutions of the city clearly explained.

The Shriners have given more to the Associated Charities than any organized body or than any individual donor, and the members at the meeting yesterday indicated by their indorsement of the project of the Old-Fashioned Women to continue their moral and financial support to the institution and for the present to aid in securing the increased membership.

Shriners Will Meet.

Mr. Adair stated that he would call together members of the Shrine Tuesday to talk over the more direct way of helping in the present movement, and that a delegation would be appointed to meet with the Order of Old-Fashioned women at a public meeting to be held Thursday afternoon in the auditorium of the Cable Piano Company. In the meantime he urged that the individual members of the Shrine begin work at once in securing new members.

For the members of the Order of Old-Fashioned Women Mrs. Maddox stated that all those desiring to aid in the proposed work by becoming members could send their names and subscriptions to the Order of Old-Fashioned Women, 805 Peachtree street.

Charities Work in Harmony.

Mrs. Preston Arkwright called attention to the fact that far from conflicting with one another, the charitable institutions of the city were in harmonious accord with the Associated Charities, and that one found the other most necessary in successfully coping with many cases now on record.

Reference, too, was made to the fact of the relations of the Associated Charities with similar institutions in other cities; how when a case of distress centered in an individual from another city, communication with that city would result in information from the charities there, which would make the easier the handling of the case here.

This feature of the work, and many others was stressed, which spurred on the interest of the little group of women, determined to carry through successfully a very noble work.

Tea This Afternoon.

Two hundred of Atlanta's best known women have been invited to meet with the Order of Old-Fashioned Women this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Robert F. Maddox, where, during a social hour, the aims and purposes of the Associated Charities will be discussed, and the real workings of the movement made known. A number of the young ladies of the city have volunteered to assist the Old-Fashioned Women, and at the gathering this afternoon plans will be formulated for the public meeting of Thursday afternoon at the hall of the Cable Piano Company.

Praise by Home for Friendless.

The ladies who are in charge of the Home for the Friendless are enthusiastic in their praise for the work being done by the Associated Charities, not only for the poor people, but for the home as well.

The Home for the Friendless takes care of all the poverty-stricken people who are unable to take care of themselves, and for some time past the home has taken care of these people for months at a time and gladly, too.

The Associated Charities, though, have taken such an interest in the matter that when a person in destitute circumstances applies for admission to the home now, it is but a matter of a few days until the Associated Charities finds a place for the destitute person to work, eat and live, and the ladies in charge of the home are enthusiastic over it, as it gives them much more leverage to take care of many more of the unfortunates who need their help.

Mrs. W. R. Hammond, when seen by a Constitution reporter, had the following to say: "I cannot say too much in praise of the work the Associated Charities is doing for the poverty-stricken people who daily apply for help at our home. Formerly, it used to be a matter of months at a time before these people were located in some employment or home, but now it is but a question of a few days after their entrance until the Associated Charities has located them and started them off with something to look forward to. I think that the class of people that we take care of is largely decreasing in numbers, and this fact is due alone, in my opinion, to the work of the Associated Charities."

Mrs. T. P. Westmoreland, Mrs. E. B. McBurney, Mrs. John J. Woodside and other ladies, who are connected with the Home for the Friendless, voiced their sentiments in about the same words as did Mrs. Hammond.

The Constitution has received the following letter from Forrest Adair:

Editor Constitution: I have read with a great deal of interest your splendid editorials upon the Associated Charities of Atlanta. I am in no wise connected with the organization, but I have closely watched its work from the beginning, and am proud of the good work they have been doing.

The Mystic Shrine, of which I am potentate, is accustomed each year to expend large sums of money for charity, not only within the order, but on the outside, and for several years this order has made subscriptions of substantial sums to the Associated Charities, because we believe that their work is done in an intelligent, systematic and business-like manner. On the board of directors of the Charities Association are some of the very best men in Atlanta, who are willing to give, not only their money, but their valuable time, to the good work.

The Associated Charities has practically rid our streets and office buildings of the professional beggar, and they make it a practice of not only giving alms, but of helping these poor people in the very best way by putting them to work where they can help themselves and become self-respecting citizens.

I trust that the business men of Atlanta will cooperate with the splendid committee of ladies who have taken the matter in charge, and without delay secure the additional members needed at $5 per annum.

Very sincerely,
FORREST ADAIR.

MISS BRIDGES TO BE ELECTED

Will Be Superintendent of Grady Hospital.

Skilled and Popular Nurse Well Known in City—Some Years Ago Was Known as "Miss Annie" at Telephone Central Office.

Miss Annie Bridges, one of the best trained nurses and one of the best known and most popular of Atlanta's good and successful women, will be elected superintendent of the Grady hospital by the board of trustees this afternoon.

That a woman should be selected for this responsible position, a position which requires the best physicians to fill, is a great compliment to Miss Bridges, while at the same time it shows the wisdom of the trustees.

MISS ANNIE BRIDGES,
Who Will Be Named as Superintendent of the Grady Hospital.

Miss Bridges made herself well known and popular with a very large number of citizens some years ago, when she was the chief operator for the Bell Telephone Company, and there are many who well remember when, instead of calling for "central," as is now done, it was, "Hello, Miss Annie," and they will also recall the fact that she never lost an opportunity to do a favor for those who called to her over the phone.

It was some eighteen years ago that "Mis Annie," when she was a young girl, went to work for the telephone company. For eleven years she was chief operator. Then there were but fifteen young women working in the central office; now there are sixty.

The Ambition of Her Life.

It had long been the ambition of her life to become a trained nurse. So, in 1901 she went to the Grady hospital and began to prepare herself for a trained nurse's work. In three years she was graduated.

For six months she was head nurse at the hsopital, when she resigned and took up private nursing, which she followed for a year and a half. For three months she was head nurse at the Wesley hospital, and afterwards filled the position of superintendent at the Home for Incurables.

Last July Miss Bridges became the superintendent of nurses at the Grady hospital. Last October she was appointed acting superintendent and so well, efficiently and faithfully did she perform all the duties of that office that the trustees decided that to elect her superintendent would be a recognition of valuable services, while at the same time place the institution in most capable hands.

CROWERS EXPECT GOOD PEACH CROP

Must Have Cold Spell in Few Days.

Peach Growers All Think Crop Is Safe at Present, as the Buds Are Dormant—A Cold Wave, However, Is Greatly Desired.

Fort Valley, Ga., January 25.—(Special.)—Despite the unusually warm weather that has prevailed during this winter, and the anxiety that its continuance has caused, the orchardists in particular and the public in general, it is a fact that up to this time the prospects are all that could be desired for a peach crop. The trees are in excellent condition, having been well-cultivated, fertilized and sprayed. The buds are perfectly dormant and show no signs of swelling, except in a few isolated places of very old trees that have been abandoned or indifferently cared for.

Prospects for Good Crop.

Interviews with such prominent growers as John H. Baird, of the Hale orchards; A. J. Evans, T. L. Burden, of the Moss Lake Fruit Farm; J. L. Wilson, O. M. Houser, R. A. Hiley and others, develops the fact that the trees are well-fruited with buds, though, as a rule, not as heavy as last year and that if the warm weather is succeeded by cold within two weeks the prospects are excellent for a fine yield. Different reasons are given for the buds remaining dormant under such abnormal weather for this season. Some are of the opinion that had there been several freezes or cold snaps, followed by high temperature, the sudden change would have had the effect of causing the buds to have swelled by this time. Another reason advanced for their still being dormant under such adverse conditions is the winter has been unusually dry, and not enough moisture in the ground to cause the sap to rise, and while the temperature has been continually high, yet the sun has been frequently obscured by prevailing heavy fogs and the nights have been very cool.

Continued Warm May Be Serious.

T. L. Burden, of the Moss Lake Fruit Farm, says: "Our trees are in fine condition and the prospects are excellent for a good crop as the buds are perfectly dormant; but a continuation of this warm weather for two weeks would no doubt work havoc with our prospect."

Dr. W. G. Wright, possibly the largest individual grower in the state, is satisfied with the present prospects, but is desirous of seeing some cold weather. A close inspection of his orchard reveals perfectly dormant buds, but he expresses doubt as to the safety of the crop if this unusual weather continues for ten days.

A. J. Evans, owner of orchards here and at Byron, when interviewed, expressed satisfaction at the condition of things as they are now, but was fearful of the result with a continuation of the high temperature that has prevailed recently.

The consensus of opinion among those best qualified to judge is that at present the crop is perfectly safe, but will be in doubt unless there is a decided change in the weather within ten days or two weeks. Should the desired weather arrive in time, there is every prospect of a fine yield, not as heavy as last year, but sufficiently large to make it a profitable season for the growers.

$3,000,000 IN BONDS.

The Central Georgia Power Co. Borrows That Amount.

Macon, Ga., January 25.—(Special.)—A copy of a mortgage of the Central Georgia Power Company to the Windsor Trust Company, of New York, was filed with the clerk of the superior court here this afternoon for record. The details of business agreement are laid out through which the power company secures the loan of $3,000,000. It is a first mortgage on the property of the power company, near Capp's and Lloyd's shoals, on the Ocmulgee river, where an immense power plant is now in course of construction. An issue of bonds follows, bearing 5 per cent, the last to mature in 1938.

GOOD ROADS SCHOOL.

Twenty-Five Counties Represented at First Session.

Athens, Ga., January 25.—(Special.)—The good roads school, of the State College of Agriculture, opened this afternoon. The opening address was made by Hon. John N. Holder, of Jefferson. Tonight, Mr. O. M. Eldredge, of the United States government service, spoke of the economics of road building. At the opening exercises fully twenty-five counties, in different sections of the state, were represented, and tomorrow it is expected that twenty-five more counties will be represented. The entire week will be taken up by the sessions of this school.

CUTTER GOES UNDER.

Attached to German Warship. No Lives Lost.

Pensacola, Fla., January 25.—Cutter No. 3, one of the largest cutters attached to the German warship Freya, now lying in this harbor, was sunk this afternoon, when she struck a number of piling in a dense fog which covered the harbor. No lives were lost, the officers and men aboard swimming 200 yards to a wharf. The accident was due to the man in charge not knowing that he was so close in shore and that piling had been placed for a new wharf, into which the boat ran at a speed of 12 miles an hour, sinking in a few minutes.

Widow Gets $3,000 Damages.

Macon, Ga., January 25.—(Special.)—The widow of the late J. C. Plunkett, formerly patrol officer in Macon, was awarded $3,000 damages against the Georgia railroad, in Sparta, last week. Plunkett was killed on his way to visit his family, the train running over him. The case has been appealed.

WAS DOWN AND OUT AFTER FOUR YEARS' STRUGGLE

E. A. Castle Gave Up Business Because Dyspepsia Was Too Much For Him.

L. T. Cooper's preparation, which is at present enjoying a tremendous sale in New York, was strongly endorsed by E. A. Castle, of 300 West Seventeenth street, Tuesday.

Cooper, who claims that most ill-health is caused by stomach trouble, is meeting the public and explaining his medicine at present in New York. Mr. Castle called at the Cooper headquarters about 3 o'clock and said:

"This New Discovery is all and more than Cooper claims. I say this after a remarkable experience with this preparation. I had heard of Cooper's success in Boston, and therefore when I began to hear of him in New York I came to see him some time ago. I had little faith in any medicine, but after four years of constant suffering, during which time I consulted the very best specialists, was operated upon twice and received no benefit whatever, I made up my mind to try this treatment.

"I started taking Cooper's New Discovery seven weeks ago. At that time I was in such poor health that I had given up business. I began to improve after the first week, slowly at first, and later very rapidly. For the past three weeks I have had no sign of stomach trouble. I can eat anything with no bad effects whatsoever. I have a fine appetite and am gaining flesh. I am cheerful, full of energy and am no longer nervous. My bowels are in perfect condition for the first time in years. I am now back at my business again and feel as though I had been made over.

"When I realize that a few weeks ago I was a miserable, nervous dyspeptic, barely subsisting on liquid food and feeling tired, gloomy and depressed at all times, my relief and thankfulness is beyond expression, and I consider myself in duty bound to make this statement."

Cooper's New Discovery has made a wonderful record in New York and other cities. It is now on sale at leading druggists everywhere. We will furnish full information about this remarkable preparation upon request. The Cooper Medicine Co., Dayton, Ohio.

UNCLE SAM WILL DONATE 20 FEET TO BOULEVARD

Brigadier General Potts Approves Plan of Widening the Road.

Brigadier General Ramsay D. Potts, commander of the department of the gulf, has approved the plan to make the "chert road," between West End and College Park a beautiful boulevard by widening the present roadway by twenty feet, and has recommended that the government yield twenty feet of Fort McPherson barracks.

Nearly all of the property owners on this road have signed up to make this same concession, but there are a few who have not yet come in on this proposition.

It depends upon the action of these few who are still holding out whether the boulevard will be constructed or not, as all of the concessions granted are dependable upon the proposition that all yield.

The double car track on the present narrow road makes driving along this road far from safe or pleasant, all of which would be changed by widening the road twenty feet and leaving the tracks, on the edge of the street, where they are now.

Anti-Saloon League to Meet.

Nashville, Tenn., January 25.—The annual state convention of the Anti-Saloon League will meet here this afternoon and continue in session two days. Several hundred delegates will be here from various parts of the state. Among the important matters to be discussed will be the effects of prohibition in Knoxville and Birmingham. The meeting will culminate in a rally to be held tomorrow evening.

REINHARDT TRUSTEES MEET IN GATE CITY

Committee Is Named to Draft Resolutions on Death of Dr. Heidt.

An informal called meeting of the board of trustees of the Reinhardt Normal college, located at Waleska, was held in the office of The Wesleyan Christian Advocate Monday morning, over which Rev. S. B. Ledbetter, vice chairman of the board, presided, with Ben F. Perry acting as secretary.

The trustees of this college now resident in Atlanta are Rev. S. B. Ledbetter, Rev. S. R. Belk, Rev. H. L. Edmondson, Rev. Fletcher Walton, Rev. Joel T. Daves, General C. A. Evans, Hon. Frank P. Rice, Hon. George Winship, Colonel James L. Key, Hon. R. A. Hemphill, W. D. Manley and Ben F. Perry.

The main object was to take formal notice of the recent sudden death of Dr. John W. Heidt, the honored president of the board, and to appoint a committee to draft suitable resolutions. The chairman appointed on the committee Ben F. Perry, Rev. H. L. Edmondson and Rev. Fletcher Walton. The same committee was also appointed to prepare resolutions upon the death of Captain D. W. Ferguson.

W. D. Manley made a very gratifying statement to the board that twenty worthy girls were being provided for at the Reinhardt Normal college out of the W. S. Witham fund, for which he is trustee.

A statement was also made by Colonel R. A. Hemphill that the guns now being used by the military department of the college had this day been purchased from the United States government through Quartermaster General Obear, of the Georgia state military department.

The Reinhardt Normal college is located in Cherokee county.

Mrs. DE FORREST ALGOOD,
Who Talks of "Billy 'Possum's" Prospects.

Billy 'Possum in Limelight.

The "Billy 'Possum" will become the petted darling of young America, the fad of the modish woman, and the mascot of the incoming administration. He has already been modeled by the toy designer; material, the color and texture of his wooly coat is being manufactured; a toy factory has hundreds of hands employed in building him in three sizes—life-size, medium-size, and four inches long.

And, best of all, the Georgia Billy 'Possum company has been organized, the organizer, president and principal stockholder being a well-known Georgia beauty and society woman, Mrs. Susie W. Algood (Mrs. de Forest Algood).

No woman in the state is better known and more highly esteemed than Mrs. Algood, and her business venture is one that will carry with it the interest of the entire section.

That the leisure woman must have something to occupy her, more than the pastimes of the drawing room, is being expressed in the practical turn prominent women are giving their talents.

In gay Gotham they have studios for architectural and interior designing; offices in which they do systematic welfare work along various lines. One well-known society woman has a brass foundry, in which she manufactures wonderfully pretty things in brass, and has made enough money out of that venture to purchase and operate successfully a celery farm in Honda.

And now comes Georgia's energetic woman as the president of a well-organized company for the manufacture and sale of the Teddy Bear's successor, "The Billy 'Possum," the little grinning "critter" whom Joel Chandler Harris and Irwin Russell immortalized in tale and verse, even before he became the "piece de resistance" of the banquet given by Atlanta's chamber of commerce to the conquering hero of the hour—the president-elect, Taft.

Mrs. Algood Talks.

"What was my inspiration? Why the incident of our good citizen, Mr. Asa Candler, hitting upon the humorous idea of having "'possum and taters," as one of the dishes at the Atlanta banquet," said Mrs. Algood.

"Why should not the 'possum, with his pleased countenance, be just as popular as the Teddy Bear. He is quite as mirth-giving as the 'little god' 'Billiken,' for when you just mention the word 'possum it provokes a smile.

"With this thought I determined to do my part toward introducing the mascot of the coming administration to the little folks of the country, and certainly the 'possum is just as easy of imitation as the Teddy Bear.

"With this project in view, I went to Washington, last Sunday, January 17, and saw a well-known patent lawyer, and finished that preliminary. Then to New York was the next step, that my idea might be materialized at once. Designers, modelers, and manufacturers were easy to find, 'but a real live 'possum we must see,' they said.

"I wired back to a friend in Georgia, who had in readiness one to ship, and within three days the little animal arrived, his head buried in his paws, as he peeped out, and then in genuine 'possum fashion he pretended to be asleep. He is the 'pet' of the German factory, where hundreds of imitations are being prepared for the markets.

"Manufacturers of plush material have come to see his fur coat that they may imitate the exact color and texture, and in a few days the entire window of a Fourteenth street store in New York will be filled with Georgia Billy 'Possums."

Anna Held's Fad.

Last night in the last verse of her catchy song, "I've Lost My Little Brown Bear," Anna Held brought upon the stage a 'possum secured for her by Mrs. Algood. A similar "stunt" will be seen in many of the New York theaters in the next few days, and Anna Held is to have her picture taken with her pet. Mrs. Algood in one week's time, not only organized her company—the Georgia Billy 'Possum Company—but made several contracts, which insure the new toys being placed on sale in the large stores of Boston, Chicago, New York and Philadelphia.

In Inaugural Parade.

The "Billy 'Possum" will be seen in the inaugural parade, as Mrs. Algood will present one of the smallest size (four inches) to each member of the Georgia delegation, with the request that he wear it on his coat. By that time the fad will be on sale everywhere, and the Georgia darky will feel pride and pleasure in seeing the "critter" he has so often "treed," climbing to the heights of fashion.

The Inman Reception.

An event of notable brilliance and beauty was the afternoon reception given yesterday by Mrs. Samuel M Inman and Miss Inman, this entertainment the first of two large receptions to include both young ladies and the married contingent.

The guests were a handsome gathering of women in that most becoming of toilets—the afternoon gown and dressy hat—and they were extended a most graceful hospitality.

The reception floor, which is a series of spacious apartments opening into a large square reception hall, their finish and furnishing of substantial elegance and taste, had an artistic decoration in palms, American Beauty roses, and that marvel of this January, peach blossoms.

Mrs. Inman and Miss Inman receiving in the drawing room, had near them vases of American Beauties, the rich color of the flowers an effective contrast against their light gowns.

Mrs. Inman was lovely in white marquisette, its panels of Venetian lace and its finish an embroidery of silver, and Miss Inman was a charming picture in silver gray astarte crepe embroidered in gray and silver.

In the reception hall branches of peach blossoms filled jardinieres on the tall mantel and in appropriate niches, their pink showing fresh and lovely against the oak paneling. Masses of low palms, through which shone fairy lamps under green leaf shades, were a picturesque decoration on the landing of the stairs, and handsome foliage plants were used with effect throughout the house.

In the rooms surrounding the reception hall vases of American Beauty roses were the decoration, and in the dining room a color combination of white and green was carried out in white hyacinths and ferns. The table centerpiece was a long, low mound of the flowers and foliage, the silver candlesticks had white silk shades under silver frames, and the confections were in white and green. Delicious refreshments were served, and in the library Miss Marion Peel and Miss Constance Knowles presided over a bowl of punch.

Among the receiving pary Mrs. Robert F. Maddox was gowned in white satin embroidered in white and gold. Mrs. Robert J. Lowry wore midnight blue satin, the corsage hand-embroidered in La France roses and the lace yoke threaded in a delicate white embroidery. Mrs. C. K. Nelson wore a black lace gown embroidered in sequins. Mrs. Hugh Richardson wore old gold satin embroidered and trimmed with lace. Mrs. Henry Inman wore gray olga crepe and princess lace. Mrs. Bates Block wore light blue silk and cream lace with jet ornaments. Mrs. Harry Atkinson wore blue satin and lace. Mrs. Frank Inman was gowned in white lace. Mrs. Arthur Hynds wore pink chiffon broadcloth hand-embroidered. Miss Marion Peel wore pale blue satin. Miss Constance Knowles wore cream chiffon cloth and lace. Miss Eleanor Raoul was gowned in lilac satin. Miss Caroline DuBose wore blue chiffon broadcloth trimmed with black velvet and lace. Miss Helen Glenn, of New York, was gowned in green messaline with pearl trimmings. Mrs. John M. Slaton wore wistaria-colored satin.

Among those calling, Mrs. Milton Dargan wore a black satin gown and a cloth of gold hat with plumes. Mrs. Edward H. Barnes wore gray chiffon broadcloth and a black picture hat. Mrs. William Perrin Nicolson wore champagne broadcloth, braided, and a blue satin hat trimmed with plumes. Mrs. Ransom Wright wore a brown satin gown with ecru net yoke and sleeves and a cream satin hat trimmed with plumes. Mrs. Ronald Ransom wore a catawba-colored satin gown and her satin hat was trimmed with catawba-colored plumes. Mrs Edward F. Johnson was gowned in pale blue satin and her hat was trimmed with blue plumes. Mrs. J. G. Oglesby was gowned in black chiffon embroidered in bronze and gold and her black picture hat had a touch of gold. Mrs. Carleton Smith wore a gray and white checked voile gown and a black picture hat. Miss Dotterer, of Charleston, wore white broadcloth trimmed with filet net embroiderd in gold net, and her hat was trimmed with white plumes. Miss Harrie Fumade wore a brown voile gown trimmed with bands of gold embroidery and her brown hat was trimmed with a yellow plume. Mrs. Charles Sisson wore a cream voile gown and her satin hat was trimmed with cream colored plumes. Miss Helen Crew wore a gray olga crepe gown embroidered, and her black velvet hat was trimmed with plumes. Mrs. Henry Tanner wore a black satin gown and a black hat trimmed with white plumes. Mrs. Evelyn Harris was gowned in gray chiffon cloth and princess lace and her gray hat was trimmed with white plumes. Mrs. George Perrigo, of Chicago, wore a lavender chiffon cloth gown and her hat was trimmed with orchids. Mrs. Lewis Beck wore a black spangled net gown and an ermine toque. Mrs. Oscar Pappenheimer wore brown chiffon velvet and a velvet hat trimmed with ermine. Mrs. Allgood Holmes wore rose-colored silk trimmed with lace the same color. Mrs. Alex Bonneyman was gowned in blue chiffon velvet with a picture hat the same color. Mrs. Buelow Campbell wore Copenhagen blue broadcloth and her hat was trimmed with plumes. Miss Martha Whitman wore a blue satin gown and a black picture hat. Miss Florence Werner wore a Copenhagen blue satin gown and a satin hat trimmed with gold net. Mrs. Russell, of Pennsylvania, wore a black lace gown and a toque of lace and roses. Miss Mattie Slaton wore a white cloth gown and a white hat trimmed with plumes.

Southern Association of College Women.

At the meeting of the Southern Association of College Women, Tuesday afternoon, reports were given on the condition of children at work in the city, and many interesting and rather startling facts were brought out concerning the other occupations for children besides factory work—messenger service, and work at the soda stands. Imagine small boys working thirteen hours a day with an hour for lunch and an hour for supper, and at $2.50 a week! One of the largest stores in the city, typical of many others, employs boys between twelve and twenty years old, maximum wages $6 weekly, for twelve or fourteen hours a day. There is no law of city or state to prevent this or any other outrage in regard to working hours for boys, except as has been said, in factories. Neither is there a state or city law regulating night messenger service or restricting the places to which the young and ignorant boys may be sent on errands. Somewhat more than half the night messengers in this city, the report brought out, are under sixteen years of age. The majority of the stores in the city that employ messengers do not hesitate for any question of age, and it is quite appalling to hear of the ten or twelve hour-days for boys of twelve who are paid $2 a week, and though not supposed to work longer than 6:30, have been seen by all of us as late as 10 or 12 on a Saturday night. These few cases, the report suggests, are only a hint of what we may all find true if we examine conditions all around us—conditions which cry for a united effort in behalf of legislation which shall cover other child labor except that in the factories.

Lecture and Musical.

On Wednesday at 7:30 o'clock a lecture and musical entertainment will be given under the auspices of the Atlanta Civic League at the Emmanuel Congregational church, Stewart avenue. The lecture, "Success in Life or the Forces That Make for Success," by Mrs. Grace M. Brown, of Denver, Colo., a forceful speaker, interests all who hear her. Take Stewart avenue car and get off at church door.

Kaufman-Greenwood.

A marriage of much interest to a large circle of friends throughout the state will be that of Miss Bertha Kaufman to Mr. George Greenwood, which will be solemnized here Wednesday evening, January 27, at 8 o'clock, at the home of the bride.

Mrs. Smith's Tea.

Mrs. Carleton G. Smith's afternoon tea on Wednesday will be a delightful affair in compliment to her guest, Miss Dotterer, of Charleston.

Assisting in entertainment will be Mrs. Edwin Forrest Johnson, who will pour tea; Mrs. Reuben Arnold, Mrs. Howell Peeples, Mrs. Jerome Simmons, Jr., Mrs. S. Y. Tupper, Mrs. Geddings Tupper, Mrs. Robert Hughes, Misses Emma Belle Lowndes, Elizabeth Rawson, Martha Whitman, Helen Glenn, Laura and Helen Payne.

To Miss Dotterer.

Miss Katherine Walker will entertain at bridge Thursday afternoon in compliment to Miss Natalie Dotterer, of Charleston, who will be her guest.

Invited to meet Miss Dotterer are: Mrs. Carleton Smith, Misses Josephine Stoney, Margaret Hallman, Miss Hazen, of Knoxville; Misses Helen McClaughry, Irene Bloomfield, Helen Cay, Harriet Calhoun, Annie Caverly, Elizabeth Morgan, Adele Holliday, Margaret Middleton, Mary Traylor, Frances Akin, Clifford West, Elizabeth Osborn, Silvey Speer, Leonora Ragland, Frances Clark, Carol Stearns, Margaret Thomas, Mary Cooper, Ethlyn Emmons, Katherine Ellis, Helen Thorn, Eliza Dancy.

Informal Bridge.

Mrs. Edwin Forrest Johnson will entertain informally at bridge Thursday afternoon in compliment to Miss Helen Glenn, of New York, the guest of Mrs. John M. Slaton, inviting to meet Miss Glenn a few of her school friends when she made her home here.

The guests will include Mrs. Jerome Simmons, Jr., Mrs. W. P. Hill, Miss Constance Knowles, Miss Mary Thomas, Mrs. Henry Johnson, Jr., Miss Frances Newman, Miss Glenn, Mrs. Slaton.

McCormick-Womack.

The marriage of Miss Marie A. McCormick and Mr. V. Marvin Womack Wednesday afternoon, January 19, was one in which a host of friends had an unusual interest. There were no invitations issued, it being the couple's wish to have only a simple and quiet ceremony. They repaired to the Second Baptist church without attendants, being accompanied only by Miss Sarah Daniel, who acted as bridesmaid, and were married by Dr. John E. White in the study of the church. Miss McCormick is an accomplished young woman, and the groom is prominently connected with one of Atlanta's leading banks. Immediately after the ceremony the couple left over the Central of Georgia for an extended trip south. They will be at home at 102 Capitol avenue to their friends about February 1.

"The Merchant of Venice."

A dramatic treat was enjoyed by the members of the Atlanta Woman's Club yesterday afternoon when, at the regular meeting, presided over by Mrs. Bolling Jones, the chairman of the lecture sections, Mrs. Woods White introduced as entertainer of the afternoon Mrs. Leslie Richardson Legg, of Macon.

Mrs. Legg selected "The Merchant of Venice" as the subject of interpretation, and delighted her hearers.

She is a gifted student of the drama, and has marked histrionic talent. Following her reading selected portions of "The Merchant of Venice," she recited several favorite poems in charming fashion.

An informal reception followed the regular program.

Mrs. Penn's "At Home."

Mrs. Harrison Penn's "at home" on Thursday will be a happy assembling of her friends, who are invited to call between 5 and 6 at her apartments at the Majestic.

Assisting in entertainment will be Mrs. Thomas Scrutchin, Mrs. Rix Stafford, Mrs. R. B. Ridley, Jr., Mrs. Fred Patterson.

Breakfast Party.

Mrs. Thomas B. Felder will entertain at breakfast Thursday in compliment to Mrs. John M. Slaton's guest, Miss Helen Glenn, of New York.

The party will include Mrs. Slaton, Miss Glenn, Mrs. Bates Block, Miss Frances Newman, Miss Caroline DuBose, Miss Martha Whitman, Miss Edna McCandless.

Little Folks' Hats For wee people of, say 2 to 6, here are a lot of Hats and Caps. Little round Hats with maybe a pompon or rosette, cloth and bearskin Tam o'Shanters and other Caps.

Instead of the regular prices, $1, $1.50 and $2, these are now piled into a miscellany, from which you are invited to take the one (or ones) you like best for 29c.

Wax Oil Polish This is a preparation for use on furniture, wood work, pianos, bronzes, iron work, linoleum, bowling alleys, table tops and floors.

It's a liquid preparation, to be applied with a soft cloth. It isn't a varnish and it isn't sticky. It won't "gum"—no matter how often used. It retains luster, brings out the grain of the wood, and cleans instantly, and the article to which it is applied can be used immediately.

We know it is good—it is our own preparation. Put up in quart tins with screw tops. And the price is 50c.

We commend it most heartily to the discriminating housewife and to those charged with the task of keeping woodwork in the best order.

Buffets and Sideboards These are weathered oak Early English finish.

We have every other kind, you understand,—Mahogany, Oak, Walnut. But we are quoting a few prices on the very popular Early English style just to illustrate the Blue Tag prices now prevalent.

They will not be prevalent very much longer. This, you know, is the twenty-sixth.

Buffets and Sideboards.

$79.50	Instead of	$93.00	$53.35	Instead of	$62.75
$80.00	Instead of	$95.00	$46.75	Instead of	$55.00
$74.00	Instead of	$87.00	$24.25	Instead of	$28.50
$66.50	Instead of	$78.00	$22.00	Instead of	$26.50

This gives you some idea, without being tediously lengthy.

Other Pieces There are some very attractive China Closets in the same finish, similarly reduced. For small houses and apartments, the makers of these pieces seem to have had special consideration. Without sacrificing beauty of line or grace of design, they have evolved some extremely clever models.

As to the quality of this furniture—that's all right. We've seen to the quality.

And these remarks apply with exactitude to other pieces—dining tables, writing tables, odd chairs, rockers, hall seats and racks, magazine stands and so on.

There are some exceedingly artistic things here—quite out of the ordinary. They've been chosen not haphazard or by the dozen. Good taste and seasoned judgment have entered into the selections—and you'll recognize that our work has been done with discrimination.

Blue Tag days are very few in number now, a fact commended to your careful consideration.

Colonial Bedroom Rugs They will wash!

We say that first, because when you look at the delightfully dainty colors of them, you'll think of their possibilities for getting soiled. So we hasten to reassure you. They will wash.

Made of a very heavy cotton cord and woven together with the firmest sort of smoothness, they have heft enough for wear; yet they are light and cool.

They come in pretty greens, blues, rose, buff and tan. Solid colors chiefly with white striped borders. Some have a mottled effect that's very good.

Think of a sunny, airy bed-room with walls done in rose besprent cretonne, window-hangings, bed valances, couch cushions, shirt-waist box and other draperies all in the same pink daintiness, and a rose Colonial Rug like one of these!

Or a Delft blue, with some windmill tiling. Or a leafy green!

See these Colonial Rugs!

THEATERS

At the Orpheum.

Taken as a whole and each act by itself the bill at the Orpheum this week is a hummer. There is variety in the bill, music, humor, pathos, dancing and singing and each act is of its class the best yet.

"The Seven Hoboes" probably are the headliner, that is, judging from the applause that greeted their act last night. The seven men are dressed in costumes true to tramp life, and each man represents some different kind of tramp—Jew, Dago, Irishman, etc. The songs that are interspersed in this act are a hit, especially the one "My Brother Sylvester," sung by Dago Dan.

Next in popular approval are Robert Hodge and Co., in the "The Troubles of Bill Blithers, Bachelor." He has his troubles with three women, who make devoted love to him, and he is a woman-hater to the core.

Warren Keane, a sleight-of-hand artist, demonstrates beyond a doubt that his hands are quicker than the audience's eyes. Some of his tricks, especially those with a pack of playing cards, were marvelous; while his cue ball trick was also wonderful.

Lockwood and Bryson, billed as "Two Dainty Girls," are all of their cognomen and more. They are pretty, dress well, have pleasing voices, and what's more, present the most refined singing act yet seen at the Orpheum, while the singing of character songs of Miss Lockwood and the whistling songs of Miss Bryson made a distinct hit.

The Gus Onlaw Trio do some dexterous stunts on a wire that are original, requiring remarkable strength on the part of the male members of the troupe, and agility on the part of the woman, who walks on a slack wire held in the teeth of the men, and also rides a bicycle on this wire.

Ames and Corbett, two clever dancers, present a neat act. They dance the clog dance on the stage, and then do a dance on two kettle drums that is great. They were roundly applauded.

Gardner and Revere do a neat singing and dancing turn, the male member of the duo, dressed as a bell boy, being very witty and a good guitar player. He carries out the act in good style.

At the Lyric.

The popular presentation of "The Devil" at the Lyric, judging by the size and appreciation of the opening audience, promises one of the hits of the season at this playhouse. As a matter of fact, Lionel Lawrence, who takes the leading role, would not seem out of place in the Savage production of the play, and but for a cold, that clearly handicapped him, he would have appeared last night to even better advantage.

The role of the Devil in this odd Hungarian drama is susceptible of any number of interpretations. It might be better acted in dead earnest, with cold cynicism and crafty malevolence, rather than with the touches of humor added in Mr. Lionel Lawrence's interpretation. Much can be said, however, in favor of the lighter interpretation, and when presented at a popular playhouse this should prove the greater attraction.

Mr. Lawrence's support, while not perfect, is by no means a weak one, and is of such character as to present this remarkable play intelligently and capably throughout.

Miss Slater, in the role of Mimi, the model, gave an excellent rendition of her part, and especially in the scene with Elsa, in the third act, did her part well. Miss Salome Park, as Elsa Berg, was well received, and Heinrich, the valet, spoke his lines with appreciation.

"The Devil" will be seen all the week at the Lyric, with matinees Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, and will doubtless be seen by appreciative audiences.

DEADLOCK IS REACHED.

Delegates to Naval Conference Unable to Agree.

London, January 25.—The delegates to the international naval conference, which has reached practically a deadlock, are still awaiting some definite instructions from their several governmets and it may be several days before the conference holds another plenary session.

It the meantime, it has been unofficially suggested that the crisis might be gotten over through a compromise on the question of a "continuous voyage," which has caused all the trouble. It is pointed out that insomuch as America, in case of war, is not likely to be a heavy shipper of actual contraband, such as guns and war material, the principle of a "continuous voyage" as upheld by America, should be applied to such goods, but not to conditional contraband, such as foodstuffs.

It is held that this compromise would benefit America more than any other nation.

MRS. HEARN OUT ON BOND.

White Woman Charged With Murder Makes Bail of $2,500.

Montgomery, Ala., January 25.—Mrs. Charlie May Hearn, the white woman, who shot and killed Nida Patten, a negress, last week, has been allowed bail in the sum of $2,500, which she made at once. It is not expected that the grand jury will indict her, as it looks to be a case of pure self-defense, the negress being on the porch of the white woman when killed.

JUROR GOES CRAZY.

Murder Trial Proved Too Great a Strain on His Brain.

Canton, Miss., January 25.—William Smith, one of the jurors in the Lewis-Dennis murder case, became insane last night and is now a raving maniac.

When the case was called for trial this morning the attorneys for the defense asked that the entire panel be discharged. Judge Potter ruled that another juror can be substituted and the trial resumed with eleven of the original panel.

Fund for Sheriff's Children.

Mobile, Ala., January 25.—A fund for the children of Deputy Sheriff Fatch, murdered by the negro Roberson, who was lynched Saturday morning, was started at a largely attended meeting held this afternoon in the county courthouse, over which Hon. James H. Webb, former county solicitor, presided. Members of the western classification committee subscribed $50 to the fund Saturday before leaving the city. Committees were appointed to canvass the city.

DEFINITE POLICY FOR THE MILITIA

Oliver Acts on Suggestions by National Board.

In Its Report the National Militia Board Urged Adoption of a Definite Policy for the United States.

Washington, January 25.—As the representative of the war department, Assistant Secretary Oliver has acted upon a number of recommendations made by the national militia board, designed to increase the efficiency of the organized militia. The recommendation for detail of noncommissioned officers of the army for duty with the organized militia was approved, conditioned upon the settlement of the question of the right to pay the expense for quarters, heat, light, medical attendance and traveling expenses out of the federal appropriations for the militia.

Approval was given to the recommendations for a second series of inspections, with the view to reporting on the organization, armament and discipline (instruction) of the organized militia; for a system of correspondence schools for the militia; and the issue of horses for militia field artillery, to be charged against federal appropriations.

Mr. Oliver disapproved recommendations for the allowance of pay and traveling expenses of officers of the militia engaged in giving instruction in rifle practice, or on continuous duty at rifle ranges, on the ground that such payments are not authorized by law. The recommendation for the issue of white gloves, as part of the clothing allowance, was disapproved, on the ground that white gloves do not constitute a part of the field service uniform.

Adoption of cap and collar insignia to identify the wearer as a member of the first line of the national forces, etc., was approved, with the proviso, however, that the time is not yet ripe for the adoption of such insignia. The recommendation for an allowance for ammunition cases, bandoleers and clips is still under consideration.

In its report the national militia board said it regarded as of very great importance the question of the adoption of a definite military policy for the United States, with particular reference to a complete coordination of effort between the regular army and the organized militia, and a combined organization of the two branches of the first line of defense. General Oliver said that this matter is already under consideration by the general staff. The militia board expressed its approval of the bill pending in congress, providing for an addition of 612 officers to the regular army, and said that the organized militia will make every effort to secure its passage.

DESPERADO CORNERED BY SHERIFF'S POSSE

Leader of a Gang of Alleged Murderers Hemmed in Cabin.

Amite City, La., January 25.—Further news from the sheriff's posse, which was reported late today to have surrounded, in a cabin fifteen miles from Amite City, Garfield Kinchen, alleged leader of the gang which murdered Ben Breland, his wife and stepdaughter, Friday, is lacking tonight.

It is believed, however, that the officers have found that Kinchen will make a desperate fight against arrest and have waited for the cover of darkness to try and take him.

While it is now believed no mob violence will be offered Avery Blount, arrested as an accomplice of Kinchen, the jail has, nevertheless, been put under a strong guard as a precaution.

A youth named Clifford Sears was placed in the custody of Sheriff Saal today for safekeeping. He drove the men to the scene of the murders. He says he was threatened with immediate death if he divulged what happened. His recital of the facts is being withheld by the authorities.

Reward for Lynchers.

Montgomery, Ala., January 25.—In the absence of Governor B. B. Comer no action was taken at the capitol today looking to an investigation of the lynching of a negro in Mobile on Saturday morning last. It is anticipated that he will offer rewards for the members of the lynching party, as urged by the Mobile citizens.

Delegates to Opium Congress.

Shanghai, January 25.—The American delegates to the International Opium Conference, which meets in this city February 1, Dr. Hamilton Wright, of Maine; the Right Rev. C. H. Brent, Protestant Episcopal bishop of the Philippines, and Professor C. D. Tenney, Chinese secretary of the American legation at Pekin, are all here, and the other delegates will arrive shortly.

FOUR ARE FINED AND BOUND OVER

Fifth Alleged Prohi Violator Gets 30 Days.

Prisoners Caught in the Raid on the Bismarck House Tried Before Recorder Broyles Yesterday.

Alleged prohibition violators had a busy day at yesterday afternoon's session of the police court. Four convictions were marked up on the records, with fines aggregating $1,500, and bonds footing up a like amount. Another alleged violator got thirty days without a fine.

Here is a summary of the business done:

D. W. Shaw, proprietor of the Bismarck House, at 7 1-2 North Broad street, was fined $500 for an alleged violation of the cit yordinance making unlawful the possession, for the purpose of sale, of whisky, and bound over under $500 bond for selling spirituous liquors.

Lewis Wilson, who is a clerk under Shaw at the hotel, was fined $50 and bound over on the same charge.

W. P. Torrence, a railroad man, was fined $500 for a violation of the traveling blind tiger ordinance and bound over under $500 bond for selling spirituous liquors.

Frank Russell, another railroad man, was given thirty days for an alleged violation of the traveling blind tiger ordinance.

The officers arrested all these men Saturday night, and sought to connect them with the Bismarck alleged blind tiger. A young man named W. C. Smith testified that he had bought whisky from Torrence, Wilson and Russell.

Judge Broyles bound Shaw over because of his belief that he had furnished Wilson with whisky to sell. The whisky all bore the same labels.

Charges Were Withdrawn.

Macon, Ga., January 25.—(Special.)—The charges of larceny after trust placed against H. Pardee, the wogan driver for the White Swan laundry, were withdrawn by Proprietor Sam Corbin this morning and the man left police court when his case was called.

Macon Citizens Want Bond Issue Of Half-Million

New District Will Call for Big Expenditure; Also Fire and Sanitary Departments.

Brown House, Macon, Ga., January 25.—(Special.) — Enterprising business men say in Macon that it has become a clear necessity that the municipal government open the way for an issue of half a million dollars in bonds for city improvements. Many people are taking up the call for this action now so that it may be met early in the year, and the improvements needed secured before the winter again.

On account of the fact that there is no strong opposition, it may be that the next two or three sessions of the city council will bring the matter to a definite shape. There is said to be sufficient importance in the suggestion to cause members of council no little study and they are having much to do with the matter.

The newly annexed district in Vineville will call for a large expenditure, as also will other districts that are almost sure to be admitted this year. Fire service and sanitary sewers as well as lights and police protection will be called for by the new citizens. In addition to this, paving and street improvements, it is said, will call for the expenditure of a handsome sum, and altogether Macon will have to spend a large amount of money in public improvements.

MAN WITH BIG HANDS MURDERED THE GIRL

Evident That Mary Forschner Fought for Life and Honor.

Dayton, Ohio, January 25.—Sam Morris and Charles Snyder, held as suspects in the case of the criminal assault and murder of Mary Forschner, 15 years old, Saturday night, were released from custody today. Both men have shown conclusively that they are innocent, and the police now are without a clue to the identity of the assailant.

The coroner today established that the murderer of Miss Forschner has enormous hands, as the imprints of his fingers on the throat of his victim extend far around her neck. It has been further determined that the girl was attacked in the shed, in which her body was found.

This must have occurred after her head was beaten in and after the body had been dragged nearly half a square. The ground at the scene of the assault presents unmistakable evidence that the victim made a desperate struggle in defense of her life and honor, as the sod and sand were torn and covered with tracks, from which the police estimate that the struggle between the girl and the ravisher could have consumed not less than twenty minutes.

The officers have under surveillance a number of colored men.

Rider Begged Leader to Save Taylor and Rankin

Ed Marshall Tells His Own Story to Jury About the Killing.

Union City, Tenn., January 25.—Nervously rubbing his hands, Ed Marshall, on trial for complicity in the murder of Captain Quentin Rankin, testified this afternoon in his own behalf. The court room had been almost deserted earlier in the day, but within a few moments after Marshall began to tell his story every seat was taken, and soon the largest crowd that has attended any of the trials was breathlessly listening to every word uttered.

Subjected to a rigid cross-examination the witness several times became confused and contradicted himself. He said that he first saw the night riders last summer when they came to his house and gave him some orders; later he was told that unless he joined them he and his wife and baby would be killed and his property burned. He went with Fred Pinion, sentenced to hang, to the rendezvous and took the oath; he met with them a number of times, but staunchly denied participating in any crime. He knew very few of the band, and could not be positive who the leader was. He had been told that the leader was Fehringer.

At Walnut Log, becoming convinced that Colonel Taylor and Captain Dankin were to be killed, he pleaded with the leader to save their lives. Failing in this he mounted his horse and rode away before the firing began.

He Sobbed.

"I was sobbing," he said, " and if Colonel Taylor knew what I did for him he would embrace me now."

He was still on the stand when court adjourned, and his cross-examination will continue tomorrow.

In the first night rider trial Ben McMurray testified that he saw Ed Marshall at home on the night of the murder, thereby contradicting Fehringer. The same witness stated on the stand this afternoon that he perjured himself then, and that he was told by Marshall what to say.

The state rested at 2:20, and the defense were allowed an hour to confer with Marshall, after which R. A. Pierce, chief counsel, said that they acknowledged that Marshall was at Walnut Log, but wanted to show that he made every effort to prevent the murder, and asked that they be allowed to recall Ethelbert Rogers, which was refused.

Jap Wants to Be Citizen.

Norfolk, Va., January 25.—Nameyo Beshu, a Japanese, claiming service as a naval steward since July 9, 1898, today, in the federal court, filed a renunciation of his allegiance to the mikado of Japan and a petition for naturalization as an American citizen under the act of July 26, 1894, giving aliens who have served four years in the navy the right to naturalization, upon ten days' notice. United States District Attorney Talley gave notice that the government desired to be heard, but would make no further statement at this time.

Agricultural Money Bill.

Washington, January 25.—In the agricultural department appropriation bill, reported to the house today, there is an increase of $1,208,820 over the amount given the department for its work during the present year, although the amount reported, $12,880,926, is less by $1,739,700 than was asked for by Secretary of Agriculture Wilson.

$14,000,000 SPENT FOR PEANUTS AND $11,000,000 FOR MISSIONS

New Orleans, January 25.—"Something is wrong with a nation, which, during the past year, spent $14,000,000 for peanuts and only $11,000,000 for spreading abroad the gospel of Christ," said the Rev. R. W. Patton, secretary of the department of the southwest of the Episcopal church in an address last night at St. Paul's church.

"If the church of God had treated us Anglo-Saxons as we are treating the Chinese and Japanese, we would today be the most magnificent race of uncivilized cut-throats the world ever saw," further declared the minister.

Baron Rosen to Go.

St. Petersburg, January 25.—Although no final decisions have been made as yet with regard to the impending diplomatic changes, it is now believed certain that Baron Rosen, the ambassador to the United States, will be transferred to Rome in the general shake-up, and that M. George Bakhmetieff, former minister to Japan, will be appointed to the ambassadorship at Washington.

Farmers Lose Their Case.

Helena, Mont., January 25.—Judge Hunt, of the United States district court, handed down a decision in the so-called smoke case today, in which he denies the application of farmers for the closing of the Washoe Smelter at Anaconda. No damages were awarded the farmers, whose property is alleged to have been injured.

American Flag Not Insulted.

Washington, January 25.—Secretary Root has informed the house committee on foreign affairs that the report of an insult to the American flag in Prague, Bohemia, was without foundation. It appears that an American and a British flag were hanging over a photographer's shop, and that during a riotous procession the British flag—not the American flag—was torn down. The house, acting on the recommendation of the committee, laid the resolution on the table.

Primary at Douglasville.

Douglasville, Ga., January 25.—(Special.)—In the city primary today, all old officers were elected, with one exception. T. R. Whitley replaces J. P. Watson as member of the board of erustees. The largest vote in the history of the town was cast.

A Stock Exchange Bond Yielding 7½% Income

WE have prepared a circular describing the 4½ per cent Bonds of the International Mercantile Co., now selling on a 7½ per cent basis, and will be pleased to mail a copy upon request. These Bonds are listed on the New York Stock Exchange and net earnings are twice the interest charges. Tariff revision ought to greatly benefit this company and result in a much higher price for the Bonds.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL THE MARKETS

COTTON CLOSED OFF 8 TO 14 POINTS

Selling Promoted by Heavy Estimates for Tuesday's Receipts.

New York, January 25.—The cotton market was weak and unsettled today, closing steady at a net decline of 8@14 points. Sales were estimated at 225,000 bales.

The market opened steady at an advance of 3 points to a decline of 3 points, January and August being a little higher on somewhat better cables than expected, while other positions were lower under realizing of long accounts, and the whole list became weak right after the call. Selling was promoted by the heavier estimates for tomorrow's receipts at leading points, stop loss orders were caught a few points below the opening figures, and before the decline was checked, prices showed a net loss of about 12@15 points on the active months. Some of the big houses were buyers of spring and summer deliveries on the decline, and it looked as though houses which had sold heavily for long account toward the end of last week were replacing their lines at the lower level, but after a rally of 6 or 8 points, the market weakened again with the old crop reaching the lowest point in the late trading, under continued realizing or liquidation, southern selling, local bear pressure and rumors of a falling off in spot demand at interior points following the satisfaction of January engagements. At the lowest, prices were 13@15 points below the closing figures of Saturday and about 21 to 25 points below the high records of last week. The close was slightly up from the lowest on covering. Southern spot markets officially reported early were unchanged to 1-16c higher.

Receipts at the ports today 36,989 bales, against 45,537 last week and 36,203 last year. For the week 240,000 bales, against 244,188 last week and 289,071 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 5,318, against 9,909 last year, and at Houston 9,503, against 8,161 yast year.

Spot closed quiet, 10 points lower; middling uplands 9.90; middling gulf 10.15; sales 2,005 bales.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, January 25.—Cotton: Spots were quiet. Low ordinary 5 3-8, nominal; ordinary 6 3-16, nominal; good ordinary 7 5-8; low middling 8 7-8; middling 9 5-8; good middling 10 1-8; middling fair 10 1-2; fair 11 1-4, nominal. Receipts 5,318. Stock 305,473. Sales on the spot 500 bales, to arrive 550.

Futures opened steady at an advance of 1 to 2 points on good Liverpool cables and soon after the first call stood at a net advance of 3 to 6 points. Operations for a fall in prices conducted in all the big markets of the world had their effect, longs were induced to sell out and professionals sold short, with the result that the active months fell off to a level 12 points lower than Saturday's closing. The close was steady and prices showed a net decline of 11 to 12 points.

Dry Goods.

New York, January 25.—The dry goods market opened strong and jobbers did quite an active trade during the day. The new prices on staple prints go into effect tomorrow. The feature of the business for the moment is the very free ordering of dress goods from the large corporations that are selling for fall delivery. Four of these concerns report that at the present rate of progress they will be sold up before the end of the week. Cotton yarns were steadier and buyers were frequently in the market.

Liverpool Cotton.

Liverpool, January 25.—Closing: Cotton, spot in fair demand; prices 1 point higher; American middling fair 5.90; good middling 5.54; middling 5.34; low middling 5.14; good ordinary 4.67; ordinary 4.27. Sales 8,000 bales, of which 200 were for speculation and export, and included 7,300 American. Receipts 17,000, including 16,500 American. Futures opened quiet and closed easy.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, January 25.—Realizing by the western and Wall street holders taking profits continued today until the weight of these sales broke the market some 14 points, when it ceased for the moment. It is noticeable that when these parties take profits they do not buy again in the same positions which they sell, but they pass over to the new crops. Their theory appears to be that as all the cotton in the world costs money to carry, that when they replace their sales, from time to time, they will buy a cheaper position. In the meantime, the cotton trade has bought the old crop which the outsiders have sold, expecting spinners to buy from them. The market closed steady at a slight reaction from the lowest point, which is expected to rally in Liverpool tomorrow from 1 to 2 points. What surprised the trade was the increase in the movement.

STOCKS SLUGGISH NEARLY WHOLE DAY

Fertilizer Stocks Affected by Rumors of Intended Merger of Companies.

New York, January 25.—Developments over the week-end had no effect in moving speculative interests in the stock market, although some of them were of undoubted importance in their financial bearings. Foremost among these was the fact that the Bank of England was permitted to take up the South African gold laid down in the London market, at a concession in price and without any competition on behalf of Paris. This is the first week for this to happen since a period well back into last year, and marks the culmination of the accumulations of gold by the Bank of France, which has been going on during that period. The issue of the Russian loan is now expected to lead to a great easing of the Paris money market, an early discount rate of one-half per cent being predicted for Paris, by international bankers in New York. Redundant money markets throughout the world are thought likely to follow. Such a condition would be but an aggravation of a situation already existing in New York. Statistics of last year's foreign commerce of leading countries furnish the clue for this state of things in the decline of $477,000,000 shown by imports and exports of the United States; $263,000,000 in those of Great Britain, and $100,000,00 in those of Germany. While the depression of last year is thus shown to have extended far beyond our own affairs, events are proving that recovery is slower than was counted upon. The yielding tendency in the iron markets was exemplified in the reduction in price of southern pig iron announced for today. The general list, while neglected and listless, was firm. The redundant state of the money market places no pressure on holders of securities. There was a pronounced easing of time money rates today, lenders coming forward with large offerings at recently prevailing bid rates. There is an eager demand for the scanty supply of commercial bills in the market. Bankers continue to make quick sales of blocks of bonds, bought from the issuing railroad companies. The fitful price movements of the day in the stock market showed no decision, and the tone at the closing remained uncertain and sluggish.

Reactions in some bonds, which have advanced sharply of late, and this made the tone of the bond division irregular. Total sales, par value, $5,420,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Metals.

New York, January 25.—The London tin market was 5s lower today, with spot quoted at £126 7s 6d, and futures at £128 2s 6d. The local market was dull at $27.75@27.95.

Copper was lower at £58 12s 6d, for spot and £60 11s 3d for futures in the London market. Locally the market was dull and nominal, with lake quoted at $14.00@14.25; electrolytic at $13.62½@13.75, and casting at $13.50@13.62½.

Lead was unchanged in the London market, with spot quoted at £13 2s 6d. The local market was dull and unchanged at $4.15@4.20.

Spelter was higher at £21 7s 6d in London. The local market was dull at $5.10@5.15.

Iron was lower at 48s 6d for Cleveland warrants in the London market. Locally the market was unchanged; No. 1 foundry, northern $17.00@17.75; No. 2 $16.75@17.25; No. 1, southern and No. 1 southern soft $17.25@17.75.

Secured the Gold.

London, January 25.—For the first time in many months the Bank of England secured the gold from the mines available on the market today to the extent of $3,320,000. There was no continental competition, due partly to the circumstance that the recent advance in the bank's rate of discount has caused an improvement in Paris checks on London, and the fact that Paris has ceased the accumulation of gold, now that the new Russian loan is out of the way. The fact that the Bank of England is now in the position to obtain gold in the open market possibly will avert a further increase in the bank rate at present.

Treasury Statement.

Washington, January 25.—Today's statement of the treasury balances in the general fund shows: Available cash balance $144,592,513; gold coin and bullion $16,726,905; gold certificates $29,070,180.

WHEAT PRICES SLUMP BY RAID OF THE BEARS

Increased Receipts and Good Weather for Fall-Sown Crop the Main Factors.

Chicago, January 25.—Increased receipts and favorable weather in this country for the fall-sown crop inspired a bear raid on the wheat market today, which resulted in closing declines of 1-8@1-4 to ½@5-8c. Corn and oats closed firm, and provisions weak.

The slump in wheat prices occurred late in the day, and was accompanied by more activity than had been manifested at any other time during the entire session. Several leading commission houses, who were bearishly inclined, were fairly active sellers during the final hour, the selling being especially brisk the last few minutes of trade. A heavier movement of wheat, reported at all primary points in this country, was largely responsible for the selling pressure, although many pit traders were disposed to favor the selling side of the market, because of the recent rains in the winter wheat belt. A lively demand for cash wheat at Kansas City had a tendency to steady the market during the first part of the day, and an advance of 5-8d at Liverpool acused moderate firmness at the start. The market closed weak at the bottom prices, with May at $1.07, and July 97 1-4@97 3-8c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 289,000 bushels. The visible supply decreased 1,829,000 bushels, and the amount on passage increased 3,104,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 766,000 bushels. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 408 cars.

Reports that county roads were almost impassable on account of recent rains throughout the corn belt caused considerable covering by shorts, which resulted in a firm market for corn. The market closed firm, with prices up 1-8@1-4c to 3-8c. Final quotations on May were 62@62 1-8c, and on July 62 1-4c. Local receipts were 330 cars, with 1 of contract grade.

Trade in oats was extremely quiet, but a firm tone prevailed the greater part of the day. The close was firm, with prices up 1-8@1-4c to 1-4c, with May at 51 3-4@51 7-8c, and July at 48½c. Local receipts were 150 cars.

Liberal realizing by local holders caused weakness in provisions following considerable firmness at the start. The early strength was due to a 10c advance in the price of live hogs. The market closed weak with prices 5c higher to 10c lower.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat 8 cars; corn 431 cars; oats 224 cars; hogs 28,000 head.

WILL CONSIDER BIDS ON LAND

Commission to Hear From Would-Be Sellers.

Hearings Begin Thursday, Jan. 28, and Extend Through Feb. 4—About 150 Tracts Offered—Many Plows Idle Awaiting Commission's Action.

The prison commission announced yesterday, and has published an advertisement to that effect, that it will hear from the owners of land, or their representatives, who have offered property to the state for a prison farm, beginning Thursday, January 28, and extending through Thursday, February 4.

This will give all those who desire it an opportunity to appear before the commission and present the merits of the particular tract which they have to offer.

The commission has received bids on approximately 150 tracts of land in various sections of the state, and in nearly every case the owner is holding back the working of his land for this season's crop, as he does not want to spend money on it in the event he can sell to the state.

Many Plows Are Idle.

Commissioner Wiley Williams, who has traveled over the state inspecting a number of these sites offered to the commission, says there are anywhere from 600 to 1,000 idle plows in Georgia on this account.

Reports that the commission had practically reached a decision in the matter of the purchase of a farm, Captain Williams says, are wholly incorrect. It will do nothing in that direction until all who wish to be heard from have appeared and been heard. And that no one may be disappointed, it has decided to give a whole week to that work.

No tract of land containing less than 4,000 acres will be considered as a farm for the state's white convicts.

The prices on many of the tracts offered are considered entirely too high, and the commission has given fair warning that unless the offers in these cases are amended and made reasonable that fact alone will bar them from consideration.

When the commission reaches final conclusion as to the tract it thinks best suited to its purposes it will make report to the governor, as the law requires that he shall approve the purchase before it can be made.

It is the commission's present purpose to complete this work and reach final decision on or before February 15. The commission's purpose is to make as full a crop as is possible this year.

SOUTHERN TO IMPROVE SERVICE.

Pullman Chair Cars to Be Added to Trains Nos. 37 and 38.

Effective Monday, January 26th, the Southern Railway will begin the operation of Pullman Chair cars on the New York and New Orleans Limited between Atlanta and Greensboro, N. C.

This improvement will be made for the accommodation of passengers going to such points at which these trains are scheduled to stop and will also be appreciated by the through passengers, who can enjoy every comfort in the club and observation cars.

We have been asked if the illness of Jack London will have any effect on the publication of his serial, "MARTIN EDEN," which we have just secured and which begins in the February issue of Uncle Remus's—The Home Magazine. We sincerely hope that he will soon recover, but no matter what the outcome of his illness, we are glad to be able to say that the complete manuscript of this story is now in our hands. You ought not to fail to read this, beginning with the first instalment, which appears in our February issue. Send $1.00 today and get the Magazine for fifteen months, and your choice as a premium of either five magnificent rosebushes ready for planting, or "The Bishop and the Boogerman," Joel Chandler Harris's latest book. We want you as a subscriber, and eventually we are going to get you. Why not make it right now? Send $1.00 today to Uncle Remus's—The Home Magazine, Atlanta, Georgia.

INSTANT RELIEF FROM CATARRH.

Send for a Trial Sample of This Great Remedy, and Convince Yourself of Its Merit.

When we say that Eclipse Catarrh Cure gives instant relief from that disagreeable, offensive disease from which so many suffer, we are ready to prove this assertion to your entire satisfaction. No matter how long you have been afflicted, no matter how badly stopped up your head may be, the sample which we will send you will give immediate relief, clear up the clogged air passages, throw off the offensive accumulations, and soothe and heal the delicate, irritated membrane.

Eclipse Catarrh Cure is a vegetable preparation of wonderful curative powers. It promptly reaches the remotest air passages where the disease is located and effects a permanent cure in even the worst cases.

Robert L. Wiggins, Augusta, Ga., Writes:

"Some time ago I wrote you for a sample package of your Catarrh Cure, which you sent me, and I will always thank you for it, for I have never used anything to give me so much relief in so short a time. It opened my nose and throat and gave me relief in every way. My throat was so sore that I could not sleep, but after using the first pipeful I went to bed and slept like a tired baby.

"Inclose please find money order for $1.00, for which please send me a whole package, and oblige."

Send for Week's Treatment.

We are anxious for every sufferer to try this great remedy, and will send for twenty-five cents in stamps a liberal trial treatment and a pipe to all who will send us their name and address. We have hundreds of letters from grateful patients whom we have cured and will send you also our booklet containing these testimonials and full information about the disease. Do not delay, but write today. Address Eclipse Medicine and Manufacturing Company, Atlanta, Ga.

GEORGIA IS BETTER OFF THAN ANY OTHER STATE

Arthur Childs Says Average Georgian Leads in "Rainy Day" Savings.

That the average man in Georgia today is better off and has more money laid away for the "rainy day" than the average man in any state in the union, was the compliment paid Georgia yesterday by Arthur E. Childs, of Boston, Mass., one of the most prominent business men of that city and president of the Columbian National Insurance Company. He unhesitatingly gave Georgia the front rank as the most prosperous state in the union.

Mr. Childs arrived in Atlanta on Saturday night and is the guest of Alfred C. Newell, who is a member of A. C. Newell & Bro., Candler building, state agents for the Columbian. Mr. Childs is accompanied by Frank A. Wesley, of Boston, director of agencies, and his visit here is one of a number he is making to several of the state agency offices. Mr. Childs will be in Atlanta until Wednesday.

ARTHUR E. CHILDS,
Of Columbian National Life Insurance Company.

In line with Georgia's prosperity, the Columbian has kept pace, and A. C. Newell & Bro. have made a splendid record in the amount of business done in the last three months of 1908.

Mr. Childs said that the year 1909 would show considerable iprovement over 1908, which was a very poor year.

"Nineteen hundred and eight was a very dull year for insurance companies," he said, "but business has already begun to pick up for the new year. Most of the companies showed very little gain last year, and a number of the large companies even lost out.

"New business was difficult to get on account of the average man having little money for investment, and the fact that those already having insurance borrowed money on them, and in taking the cash surrendered value caused their insurance to lapse.

"Legal reserve companies have increased their assets and surpluses in spite of the small amount of insurance in force. The presidents of legal reserve companies are all unanimous in the opinion that 1909 will be a prosperous year in placing of insurance. This is shown by the people everywhere making application for more insurance."

The Columbian National Life Insurance Company is an old company, and an Atlantan, Frank Hawkins, president of the Third National Bank, is one of its directors.

MRS. HELEN Z. ORCHARD IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

Widow of Late Prof. Orchard Declines in Health After Son's Death.

The death of Mrs. Helen Zubley Orchard occurred at 10 o'clock last night, at 232 West Peachtree street.

Mrs. Orchard was the widow of Professor William Henry Orchard, of London, England. She was born on Beech Island, S. C., about eighty-seven years ago, and belonged to one of the oldest and most representative families of South Carolina. Mrs. Orchard was of illustrious revolutionary ancestry, being a niece of General Nathaniel Green and closely connected with General Winfield Scott.

Prior to coming to Atlanta with her family, some years ago, she had always lived in Columbia, S. C. Mrs. Orchard is survived by two daughters and three sons: Mrs. Thomas Lipscomb, of South Carolina; Mrs. Eugenia Stovall, of Atlanta; J. J. Orchard, of Dallas, Texas; F. B. Orchard, of Augusta, and W. E. Orchard, of Atlanta. Her grandchildren and great-grandchildren are: Mrs. George Munford, Miss Ogle Munford, Taloe Munford of Virginia; Miss Male Orchard, William Orchard Lipscomb, Elizabeth Lipscomb, Orchard Lipscomb and Oscar Lipscomb of South Carolina, and Miss Helen Gleason of Atlanta.

Personally, Mrs. Orchard was a woman of great dignity of character, charm and elegance. Up to the past few months she had always enjoyed excellent health, but the death of her son, T. E. Orchard, which occurred in New York, was a great shock to her. Since that time she gradually declined in health.

The body will be taken to Columbia, S. C., tonight for interment.

Pension Building for Ball.

Washington, January 25.—The fight over the use of the pension building for the inaugural ball was renewed in the House of Representatives today, soon after that body met. Mr. Sims, of Tennessee, as he had done when the resolution was up two weeks ago, led the opposition.

The supporters of the proposition, however, were too numerous. The resolution was adopted, so that only the president's signature is lacking to make the measure a law.

INSPECTOR OF WEIGHTS WANTED FOR THE CITY

Important Paper by Councilman Chosewood Before the Finance Committee.

The finance committee of the general council is considering a very important paper which was introduced by Councilman Chosewood. It is an ordinance creating the office of inspector of weights, measures and foods, and is as follows:

Section 1. That the office of inspector of weights, measures and food is hereby created at a salary of one hundred dollars per month, the funds therefor to be provided by the committee on finance.

Sec. 2. That said inspector shall have full power and authority to examine, mark and inspect any wagon, dray or other vehicle transporting or loaded with coal, ice, fuel or other merchandise, while in transit. And to require same to be carried over to the city scales and there to be weighed, and to otherwise see that the existing ordinances governing weights and measures shall be carried out.

Sec. 3. That the existing ordinance, placing the appointment of city weighers under the city marshal, be and the same is hereby repealed, and the said city weighers shall, at the expiration of the present term of office, be appointed by said inspector subject to confirmation by the mayor and general council. The said city weighers shall, from and after the passage of this ordinance, be subject to direction, control and supervision of said inspector.

Sec. 3. Said inspector shall have the right and power to inspect the sales and measures of all persons in the City of Atlanta using or selling goods, wares or other merchandise by weights and measures, and it shall be his duty to prosecute any person selling their goods, wares and merchandise at short weights or by short measures, as provided by the laws of the state and the existing city ordinances.

Sec. 4. Said inspector shall secure from the state of Georgia a standard of weights and measures, and at once make an inspection of all the weights and measures in use by any person in the city of Atlanta, selling by weights and measures, to see if their weights and measures conform to the standard weights and measures provided by the state of Georgia; and if he finds that such weights and measures do not conform to said standards, he shall condemn same, and should any person thereafter use same in making sales, on conviction in the recorder's court, he shall be fined not exceeding one hundred dollars or imprisoned upon the public works not exceeding thirty days for each offense, in the discretion of the recorder.

Sec. 5. That said inspector shall inspect all articles sold or offered for sale in the city of Atlanta for food, and see that same comply with the laws of the state of Georgia or of the United States; and, if he finds any violation of said state laws, to report same to the commissioner of agriculture, if said products are local, or to the United States authorites, if said products are interstate. It shall be the duty of said inspector to rigidly enforce the pure food laws, and to see that only pure products are sold or offered for sael, and to prosecute all offenders, violating either the city, state or federal laws on this subject, in the courts having jurisdiction thereof.

Sec. 6. That the existing ordinance, codified in chapter 37 of the City Code of 1899, placing the matter of scales, weights and measures under the jurisdiction of the city marshal, is amended by inserting the office of "inspector of weights, measures and food" in lieu of "city marshal" where same occurs therein; and hereafter said inspector shall have jurisdiction over city weghts and the supervision of all weights, measures and scales, and likewise jurisdiction of the enforcement of the existing pure food laws.

Sec. 7. That all ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict with this ordinance be and the same are hereby repealed.

H. M. WILLETT PAYS $8,500 FOR LOT ON PEACHTREE

H. M. Willett, of the insurance firm of Bagley & Willett, has bought of Henry S. Jackson a lot 100 by 350 feet on Peachtree road, just north of the Charles Winship place, for which he paid $8,500. This puts the valuation of Peachtree property out this distance at $85 a front foot. The sale was made through the well-known real estate firm of E. P. & Charles H. Black, with offices in the Empire building. Mr. Willett, at an early date, is going to begin the erection of a handsome home there.

With the completion of the trolley line to Buckhead all of Peachtree road between the outskirts of the city and that place is to be subdivided into parks and building lots to be sold off.

SEASON FOR CROUP NOW AT HAND

WOMAN WHO KNOWS BEST CROUP REMEDY IN DEMAND.

Goose Grease No Longer Depended Upon Because Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Is Better.

[From the Atchison, Kan., Daily Globe.]

This is the season when the woman who knows the best remedies for croup is in demand in every neighborhood. One of the most terrible things in the world is to be awakened in the middle of the night by a whoop from one of the children. The croup remedies are almost as sure to be lost, in case of croup, as a revolver is sure to be lost in case of burglars. Geese are not very good to eat, but they are in great demand because of their grease, which is good to put on a cloth and tie around the neck of croupy patients. Jewish families nearly always have goose grease on hand. Most children, when they have croup, refuse to take the remedies offered them. The only thing to do is to hold their noses and make them take it. There used to be an old fashioned remedy for croup, known as hive syrup and tolu, but some modern mothers say that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better, and does not cost so much. It causes the patient to "throw up the phlegm" quicker, and gives relief in a shorter time.

WHOLESALERS TO FIGHT FRAUDULENT STATEMENTS

That a determined effort is being made by the wholesale merchants and manufacturers of Atlanta to put a stop to retailers, especially the country merchants, obtaining goods by means of fraudulent statements, was evinced yesterday, when one of Sheriff Mangum's deputies arrived from Piedmont, Ala., with R. L. Formby, who is charged with "fraudulently obtaining goods." The warrant was sworn out by the M. C. Kiser Company, the wholesale shoe dealers.

Formby, who formerly ran a general merchandise store in Piedmont, Ala., is said to have bought $500 worth of oods from the Kiser Company during the latter part of 1907. It is alleged he signed a financial statement showing large assets, and small liabilities. Months passed on, but the bill was never paid. In July, 1908, he was bankrupt. Recently the shoe company swore out a warrant and had him arrested, the requisition papers being honored by Governor Comer. Formby is now in the Tower.

It is said Atlanta merchants, owing to the frequency of the practice, are going to be hard on retail merchants who represent their assets as enormous and liabilities as trivial. The outcome of the present case, which is practically the start, will, therefore, be the determining factor of the course to be taken in future by the wholesalers.

RESIGNATION OF ROOT HAS BEEN TENDERED

Becomes Effective When the Senate Confirms Nomination of Bacon.

Washington, January 25.—Secretary of State Root has tendered to President Roosevelt his resignation, effective upon the qualification of his successor, Robert Bacon, whose nomination along with that of J. C. O'Loughlin to be assistant secretary of state in place of Mr. Bacon, went to the senate today.

The president also sent to the senate the nomination of Henry L. West to be commissioner of the District of Columbia for a second term, and Seldom B. Kingsbury to be judge of the second circuit court of Hawaii.

MRS. CARRIE NATION PELTED WITH EGGS

Kansas Smasher Gets Hostile Reception in London Music Hall.

London, January 25.—Mrs. Carrie Nation, who is attempting to deliver a series of lectures here, met with a very hostile reception at the Canterbury music hall tonight. She was pelted with eggs, one of them striking her in the face. From the very beginning the audience maintained a chorus of boos and hisses. Her manager vainly appealed for fair play and Mrs. Nation was obliged to quit the house under police protection.

BANKRUPTCY SALE OF MODERN, UP-TO-DATE ROLLING MILL.

The Rolling Mill of the Sheffield Rolling Mill Company will be sold on Wednesday, the [illegible] day of February, 1909, within the legal hours of sale, at the plant, in Sheffield, Alabama, under a decree of the bankruptcy court. The mill is a good one. The site consists of sixteen acres of land inside of the corporate limits of Sheffield. This sale will afford an opportunity for someone to secure a splendid bargain. For full description of this mill and plant, write to J. W. Worthington, Trustee in Bankruptcy, Sheffield, Alabama.
